Torry PTA Carnival Planned for Family

Many weeks of preparation have gone into the making of items to be sold at the Pre-Christmas Carnival sponsored by the Torrey PTA. Set up for the entire family, guests may come for dinner at 5:30 p.m. and continue with an evening of varied gift shopping.

The Dec. 2nd event to be held in the school is headed by Mrs. H. A. Wilber, Jr., and Mr. R. K. Hill, with Mr. and Mrs. John Tates supervising the dinner. Many young daughters will share aprons and ornamented felt socks displayed at the display of dolls and BOOTHs featured at the carnival to catch other eyes will include a "prize" chest, sugar plum tree, fish pond, tennis porch, cake walk, candy, chuck wagon for snacks, plants, Christmas decorations, parol post, white elephant, photos, popcorn, ginger ale, ball toss, games, cartrick and cartoons. Santa's appearance to accept children's gift lists will complete the evening.

Student Work Goes on Sale At Cranbrook

Opening night of the annual Christmas exhibition and sale by students of Cranbrook Academy of Art is Friday, Dec. 2, at the galleries of Cranbrook Academy, according to Wallace Mitchell, gallery head.

Students in all departments of the academy have been working on hand-made Christmas cards, rings, pendants, earrings, stoles and scarves. Paintings done in the regular course of student work will be shown for sale, as well as small sculptures in wood, metal and stone.

From the ceramics department colorful plates, bowls, pots and ash trays will be shown, with enamel and copper articles from the metal-smithing department. Galleries of Cranbrook Academy of Art will be open Dec. 2 through Dec. 11, daily from 2 until 5 p.m., except Monday, Dec. 5. They will also be open two evenings, Dec. 2 and 3 from 8 until 10 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to come and choose unusual gifts for the hard-to-please.

Also on exhibition are human interest photographs and dramatic juxtapositions of the ancient and modern from the permanent collection of the galleries.
