Garden Clubsters Husbands Take To Carving Birds

With turkey to carve for members of the Bloomfield Hills Garden club and their husbands, at a traditional supper next Monday, even husbands will do their share and apportion the duties.

Partaking of the turkey, et cetera, will be LeRoy L. Collier, Edward P. Tolson, James B. Longwell, Edward S. Welton, Howard Harrington, Joe Forest, W. Casler, and Raymond T. Perring.

Meanwhile their wives, led by Mrs. William G. Ferguson will be completing details of the holiday meal in the dining room of the new Bloomfield Hills high school.

INTERIOR COLORS of the new school will set the theme of temporary decorations being planned by Mrs. Robert Vanderkoo and her committee.

Following the supper, Jack Van Covering, Free Press wild life editor, will show his new motion picture, "Outdoors in America."
