Now that Carole Sue Goldstein will be married to Justin Cohen next summer was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Goldstein of July last. Benjamin Goldstein is a son of Mr. Bernard Cohen and the late Mrs. Cohen of Kansas City, Mo. Mr. Goldstein graduated from Birmingham high school and now is a junior at Wellesley college, Wellesley, Mass. Mr. Cohen will graduate from Yale university in June and enter Harvard Medical school in September.

Olivet College Presents Concert

When Olivet college and the Village of Olivet presented their Christmas musical program in Olivet Congregational church on Dec. 11, three young people from this area participated. Joyce Hoeking, whose parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Reginald S. Hoeking of Trosper, sang "There Were Shepherds" from Handel's Messiah. Joyce also performed with the Olivet quartet in "The Night Before Christmas." John Robinson, son of the Dean H. Robinson, Highmeadow court, Birmingham, sang with the Olivet college women's and men's quartets in "The Prophecy" by Alvin Reed, and sang with a mixed quartet in a number entitled "Thirteen Feet and Eight Little Talks of White." Charles Sahlin, whose parents are the Paul E. Sahlin, Westchester way, Birmingham, took part as a member of the Olivet college chorus.

Mather College Has Stunt Night

Louisa Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Roberts, Lakeshore road, Birmingham, appeared in the Sophomore class skit on stunt night, Wednesday, at Flora Stone Mather college of Western Reserve university, Cleveland, O. This was the college's first annual presentation of the event which is held traditionally on the night preceding Christmas vacation. Each of the four Mather classes presents an original skit satirizing campus life, which are set in scenes of funny and original comedies or operettas. Following the program, the students attended a formal dance at the Tudor Arms hotel and wound up the festive week breakfast in Hays hall on the Mather campus.

THE SUBDUED MALE

Why does the female mind at Christmas-time think only of male gifts in terms of deep draft colors? Beneath that dark grey flannel jacket that he wears there lurks a touch of Beau Brummell. Deep inside lies the unfulfilled longing for something a bit daring, colorful and dashing. But it must be like fireworks in a martini... absolutely right. Come and see our dashing (but right) colorful selection of wonderful masculine Forstmann CASHMERE SWEATERS. You deserve and we'll prescribe... not vermuth, but just the right Cashmere sweater in the right color.
