Sidelights

(Continued from Page 1, Sec. 5) style for their office Christmas dinner. Sure looked delicious. It was reported that Ray Smith was given a TV program last week and the following program was given to William Cole. It is reported that Ray Smith and William Cole are next door neighbors on Worthington road. The TV program was given to Cole and Smith as both humorous and out of the ordinary.

Mr. John Roberts, Carey Lane, Wing Lake last year resolved to take up skiing, a sport of which his husband is a great follower. First time up on the ski tow, Mrs. Roberts injured her arm, and she was "out for the season."

It is going back with pager determination and has bought two parkas. One plain-colored parka is her "standing up" model—the other, with horizontal stripes, is the one she will use to take her falls.

HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Big Playhouse Delights Gleason Girls on Christmas

Excitement ran high in the Florence Gleason household last week. Last minute touches were being made on the big eight-foot-square playhouse for Maureen, 4, and Janet, 3. The house has five windows and a fiber glass roof.

Waiting for Christmas was high lighted by the girls' conversation about having lunch with Santa and their father. Jim, who is 2, was waiting for the arrival of his big brother, but 8 months old and was unimpressed at the whole thing.

Spending Christmas vacation in the Grand Samaritan hospital in Cincinnati, spent the day with the family.

The John L. Pedersons held their 26th anniversary party at home. Mrs. George Gibbs of Laramie, Wyo. Mrs. Gibbs, the former Carol Anderson is a student at the University of Wyoming. The Gibbs were in town on Thanksgiving Day.

Initiating their newly finished recreation room, the D. J. Reeves held a pre-Christmas open house for friends and neighbors last Friday evening.

Celebrating their tenth wedding anniversary today are the E. Lee Parks.

A Lathrup family had a little mystery last week, subtitled, "The Thirsty Christmas Tree." A young member of the household made the prescribed cut in the trunk and carefully filled the water container of the stand with water. It was all gone the next day and the member on for a few days until some member of the family connected the petpouch's frequent demands.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Sampson, Ramsdale, are proud of their new grandson, William A. Sampson III, born Dec. 16 at Lynn, John and Bill.

The Richard Stones of Meadowbrook Way were happy to have their son Bill home for Christmas. Bill, who is with Charles Scribner and Son in New York had a little trouble getting here. Pop at Willow Run sent his plane on to Chicago. While Mr. Stone waited for him at Willow Run, Bill came in by train westward from the East and rode a bus out to his parents' home.

Mr. Stone and Bill both got home in time for a late Christmas Eve celebration. Other guests at the Christmas dinner were the Stone's daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. John Merritt and grandson John and Bill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Ristau and daughter, Barbara of Ellorade, had a Christmas weekend at Bad Aye. There they visited Mrs. Ristau's mother, Mrs. George Amos, and her brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Russel Amos.

Harold Fairbanks Family Travel North for Skiing

While most of were shivering in the cold around Beverly Hills, the Fairbanks on Riverside braved the wintry blasts and went farther north.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Fairbanks and the children spent the week-end at Ainsdale Ranch and Ski Club near Gaylord. Besides enjoying the invigorating sport and fresh air, they visited the doctor's win brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Fairbanks, who live in northern Michigan.

Dr. and Mrs. William McAlonan of Deanshire entertained his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. T. McAlonan, on Christmas and over the week-end. They are giving a cocktail party tonight for 25 guests.

Those from Beverly are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fairbank, Mr. and Mrs. George Sutz, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Switzer, Mr. and Mrs. Len Linsenmeyer—all neighbors from Deanshire, and Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy from Beverly. The other guests are from Detroit and other surrounding places.

Our teen-agers are coming to the front this month. Skip Pruchason of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Prucha of 14 mile road, was a lucky winner in a contest sponsored by the University of Detroit. This is an annual event and the proceeds go to the University's high school athletic fund.

John Anthony Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Powers of Riverside drive, was one of the winners in a play given by the Junior Ridgeville theatre group last week and covered himself with glory.

The Christmas party for the pupils of the Vanhook school of dancing was given Monday night. The play, "Strangers Came to Bethlehem" was given by the Ridgeville Play House and John took the important part of Joseph the innkeeper.

Once again in keeping with the holiday spirit of the season, Mrs. Ann Vandrosser, of Warwick, social chairman of the West Beverly Hills Woman's Bowling League, excelled in arranging their annual Christmas party at the Fox and Hounds.

The festive Christmas decorations were designed and made by Mrs. Vandrosser. Gifts were exchanged, after which the usual bowling session took place. Bowling for lovely prizes followed.

Bowling is especially competitive at this time because it was "positive" day, with each team.

Slumber Parties

Delene Homes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grand Homes on Kirkshire, doesn't believe in slumber parties. When it comes to entertaining, she is giving two parties this month.

Friday night, Dec. 23, she gave a slumber party for friends she had known in Farmington. These girls were Clara Hanson, Lou Ayers, Sharon Regentke, Dawn Franjae, and Charlene Gamm. They did the usual amount of eating and playing games, but as for the "slumber" it was reduced to a minimum.

Her second party, also the slumber variety will be given Friday, Dec. 30. There will be twelve girls, including Delene and they will start off the evening by going to the local roller rink. They will then have a party at the home of Mrs. G. D. Burns who moved this month into their new home on Riverside. It was completed just in time for the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Burns had formerly lived on Westchester avenue.

Those invited are Jenny and Jack Marshalls of Port Huron.
