Swedish Customs Observed By 40 Guests at Holiday Party

Each year the Christmas season is opened at the Elwood P. Engel home on Wing Lake road with a holiday party. This year's party was held Saturday night in the form of a "welcome home" celebration for Mrs. Engel's sister, Miss Ellen Imboden of Detroit who, for the past nine months has been travelling abroad.

Ellen visited friends and relatives in several European countries, including France, Germany, Switzerland and Italy.

Some 40 guests were greeted at the Engel home with the serving of Christmas punch. A smorgasbord dinner followed with beef stragouff the main dish.

At midnight, an old Swedish Yuletide custom was observed with the serving of Swedish Glogg. This is a mixture of wine and brandy which is warmed, lighted and served after the colorful flame has kindled.

The guests engaged singing and dancing to the piano music of Dr. Hans Beyer, native of Copenhagen who works on the medical staff of Ford Hospital.

The guest list included the guest of honor, Miss Ellen Imboden and her escort, Cam Lombard of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stecker, Wing Lake road; Mr. and Mrs. Morten Gaidis, Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dolzede of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Wally and wife, Dr. Martha Wells, Birmingham; Dr. and Mrs. George Coleman, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. O. Gilbert Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hatfield, Birmingham; Wm. Eric Engel, sister and husband; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peterson of Berkeley and Mrs. Royal H. Jones, Jr. of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Imboden of Detroit.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Hovde of Riverchase Terrace, recently of Paris, France; Genevieve and wife Ford Motor company at a dinner; several other guests were from Geneva, Pontic and Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nicolson, Sandy Lane, last week motored to New York, where, with Dr. and Mrs. J. R. McGeorge of Hagerstown, Ind., they spent a few days.

While there they saw "Palma Game" and "Desk Set" with Shirley Booth and took a trip through the United Nations building. They also enjoyed the Copacabana and Latin Quarter night clubs.

Newcomers to Foxcroft are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mater, 6105 East Stryker. The Maters have two children, Julie, a freshman at Alabama college and Susan, 9, in the fourth grade at Vaughan school. Mater is production manager at Campbell Ewald Co.

Friends Gather For Birthday Party

Shirley Ann Hart celebrated her sixth birthday anniversary at the home of her parents, the Herman Hirths on Kinross, when she invited 12 of her friends for a luncheon.

Richard Garlick, president, presided. Reports were heard from several committees, including a report by Mrs. Ralph Harding, chairman of the committee on landscaping and beautification of the waterfront park. Mr. Harding's report told of extensive and specific plans for this work. The most immediate attention will be given the shade trees to be planted near the beach.

The last week of November tends rather early to report ice-making activities but such was the order of activities on Wing Lake all last week. The ice was clear and fine and the blades had had gaily after school each evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dugan entertained their bridge club Saturday evening at their home on Furber road.

Bidge and a midnight lunch were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kueseneyer, Mr. and Mrs.
