SOMETHING TO "BROOD" ABOUT—Mama's looking worried about the sad situation, but this biddy on the M. O. Olsen farm near Davenport, Wash., has cheerfully gone to the dogs. She mothers the pups constantly, and rules the roost completely when Mama goes out for a walk.

YMCA Membership Drive Nears Goal

With better than two weeks remaining in the drive he stated that he has hopes of both goals being achieved before the victory dinner in Detroit Feb. 28.

★ Smile a Minute...

We like the picturesque smile employed by the young bookkeeper in discussing a familiar domestic crisis. He had to call up his wife and cancel their plan to attend a big dance. The boss had told him he had to put in some night work on the books.

"Did your wife take it calmly?" a friend asked.
"Did she?" rejoined the young husband. "She was as serene as a pug dog man with a fit on a tin roof!"

MRS. CLAYTON B. ARMITAGE

Ice Blue Lace Worn For Saturday Vows

Barbara A. Inch and Clayton B. Armitage exchanged wedding vows and rings at a candlelight ceremony Saturday in St. Timothy Episcopal church, Detroit. The Rev. Franz Ollerman read the 7 o'clock rites before 200 wedding guests.

The bride was gowned in ice blue shuttle lace and met with a matching lace cap from which fell her fingertip veil. She carried a cascade of ranunculus and stephanotis.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Inch of Detroit. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Armitage of Miller Way, Gilbert Lake.

Matron of honor and four bridesmaids preceding the bride down the aisle were Mrs. J. B. Chambliss, Sharon Inch, and Pat MacDonald, all of Detroit. Best Attendant and Barbara Chasley both of Birmingham.

All attendants wore silver blue waltz length frocks made of crystalline, trimmed in embroidered lace and bouffant of net and lace. They carried cascades of pink sweetheart roses.

Robert Inch was best man. Seating the guests were Jerry Armitage and John Burleigh, both of Birmingham; James Bulls of Bay City and Gerald Birch of Detroit.

The bride's mother attended the wedding and reception following Tuesday.
