

Today's opportunities for youth to achieve great success are greater than they ever were... and if today's youngsters were enthusiastic to take advantage of them there is no realistic limit to which the human race could not go.

The Birmingham Eccentric

Thursday, February 10, 1955

SECTION 2

Prominent Hills Weddings at Christ Church

Suki Anderson Wed To Harold Stenglein

Maid of honor and seven bridesmaids stood before the altar of Christ Church, Cranbrook, Saturday afternoon with Suzanne Jane (Suki) Anderson when she became the bride of Harold John Stenglein, Jr.

White ribbon and flowers marked the pews, candles gleamed in the chapel and arrangements of white flowers were placed on the altar.

The 4:30 ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert L. DeWitt. A reception followed in the Bloomfield Hills Country club where carnation trees, woodwinds and pink and garnet floral arrangements were used.

THE BRIDE is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin John Anderson of Orchard Ridge road, Bloomfield Hills. Her father is president of the Goshel Brewing company. Harold's parents are the Harold J. Stengleins of Saginaw.

Suki was groomed in ivory Italian silk peau de soie, with a portrait neckline outlined with appliques of heliotropes and lilies. The empire bodice met a princess-style front panel and corded panels falling into a formal cathedral train. Her cathedral length veil fell from a tiny cap of shirred ivory silk illusion, appliqued with Duchess lace. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried lilies-of-the-valley.

AS HIS sister's maid of honor, Marynell Anderson was groomed, waist-length deep ivory faille more distinguished by a deep V-neckline, bracelet, eighth sleeves and a bouffant skirt. A face veil was caught to a headband of deep ivory velvet with petals applied on each side.

Scotch Traditions Fete Robbie Burns

by DOROTHY BENJAMIN ZACK

Foods and traditions of the Scotch folk, who live in Birmingham and its environs were dusted off recently for the birthday of Robbie Burns.

Mrs. James Gologly of Emmons was among those at the Mary Middlemass Lodge No. 229 who gathered in Hazel Park, taking part in the birthday celebration of Scotland's famed poet.

Her ode, recited during the program was part of a program that included bagpipe selections by a recent arrival from Scotland, William Wright of the program was Mrs. William Wright, a Birmingham resident, who is the chief daughter of the lodge and attended the event with her husband.

OTHER LOCAL members sharing the program and Scotch food besides the Wrights and the Gologlys were Mrs. Wright's daughter, Mrs. Clayton Kellogg and Mrs. Kellogg.

HAGGIS, a food to which Burns wrote an ode, was on the menu, as was steak pie. The latter was served with and without kidney, to please the Americanized tastes of the Scotchmen.

The ode to Haggis begins "Fair fa' your honest, sonnie face, Great chieftain of the puddie-faugh, O!" and concludes "Weel are ye worder o' a grace As Lang's my airn."

IN MRS. GOLOGLY'S Scotch brogue, she poen sets the stage for stories of her recent trip to Australia, where she was reunited with her mother last October, for the first time in 30 years.

"My mother," she says in telling the Eccentric of the trip, "was the same age as I am now when I saw her 30 years ago. The first day it seemed very strange. But the next day she started to bake and then I could see my mother again."

Mrs. Gologly came here with her husband when they were both fitting the little tartan kilts and jacket that she still loans out for costume and Scotch events for a size ten lad. Both her sons, Michael and Alugh are married themselves now.

"REGARDLESS HOW LONG you've been away from your country, you're always Scotch," she says as she described how to make her favorite food from her home.

Served often to her husband, the steak pie is the sump as served at the Mary Middlemass event.

Ingredients are a half pound of rich pie crust, a lamb's kidney (which may be eliminated if not wanted), a pound of thickly cut steak, and some seasoned flour.

WHITE THE OVEN is heating, cut the steak into neat strips, trim and wash kidney. Dip in seasoned flour, and wrap a piece of kidney and suet in each piece of meat. Fill the pie dish and add water. About a half cup will do, "just so it is moist and not runny," directs Mrs. Gologly.

Roll out pastry one size larger than the pie-dish, cut of a strip all round and place on the dampened edge of the pie dish. Wet the strip and cover pie with remaining pastry. Trim and mark with a knife, making a hole in the center. Decorate with strips or leaf-shapes of pastry.

MRS. JAMES GOLOGLY SERVES HOT TEA
Tells of Scotch meat pie. (Eccentric Photo)

MRS. HAROLD JOHN STENGLIN, JR.

Beach, another aunt. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beach of Westport, Conn. and Mrs. Bruce B. Bort, grandnephews of the bride from Chicago, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Anderson, her uncle and aunt from Rockford, Ill.

Proscenium Picks 'Royal Family' For Winter Show

"The Royal Family," a George Kaufman Edna Ferber hit, has been chosen for winter production by the Proscenium club, young high school thespians.

The cast includes Doug Austin, Ruth Heller, Carolyn Hutton, Linda Lewis, Dase Dixon, (Kirkie de Nair), Steve Tucker, Dick Sillar, Bob Krohn, Joe Kroeger, Bob Ketchum and Don Kristof.

William Kogel heads the directorial staff with Sue McDonald, student director.

Production details are in charge of Kogel, manager; Kristof, stage manager; Palmer Bollinger, props; Martha McDonald, prompter; Hester Lewis, makeup; Krohn, lights; Nancy Borne, publicity; Bev Harris, costumes; Bev Nagel, tickets and Dave Phillips, program.

The production is slated for Feb. 24-25 at 8 p.m. in the Baldwin school auditorium.

ZTA Unit Meets In Detroit Tonight

North Woodward alumnae of Zeta Tau Alpha will hear a telephone company demonstration of voices at their meeting at 8 p.m. tonight at the home of Mrs. G. W. Calhoun, 12552 Birwood, Detroit.

To Visit Holy Land

When the S. S. Independence sails from New York on Friday, passengers aboard will be the Carl Binkles of Henrietta. The two-month cruise will take the couple to Istanbul, Turkey, and also give them a seven-day visit in the Holy Land.

Twofold Purpose

Dr. and Mrs. Luther R. Leader of Cranbrook road, Bloomfield Hills, entertained at a dinner at the Detroit Athletic Club Saturday evening, the party having two reasons.

It honored Dr. Leader's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Moyer, who arrived on Friday from their home in Wynnewood, Pa., to spend the weekend.

The other purpose was to celebrate daughter Susan Leader's sixteenth birthday anniversary.

Besides the honorees, the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marsh, their son, Jay, and daughter, Patricia, and the hosts' other daughter, Jane, and son, Albert Leader.

European Open House

Sara Strengeff, Birmingham dramatics teacher, will be featured with Miss Johansen at a "European Open House" in the Mart room of the Wayne University Student Center at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 17.

Miss Johansen is the house mother of the Auf Chapman, floating Youth Hostel in Stockholm, Sweden. She will show colored slides of hosting in Sweden and Miss Strengeff, who has traveled extensively and lived in Finland, will show her slides of that country.

Thomas C. Goad Claims Bride in Monday Rites

A wedding gown of Italian silk satin was worn by Clarissa Barlow Adams when she became the bride of Ensign Thomas Clifford Goad at an evening ceremony, Monday.

The Rev. Robert L. DeWitt read the 8:30 rites in Christ Church Cranbrook, after which a reception followed in Oakland Hills Country club.

The fitted bodice of the wedding gown was accented with long sleeves and had a small mandarin collar exquisitely appliqued with tiny crystal drops. Graceful folds of the voluminous skirt fell into a cathedral train. Her full length, tiered veil of silk illusion was secured by a shirred coronet of net and matching crystal drops. She carried calla lilies.

CLARISSA is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hammond Adams of Puritan road. Her husband's parents are the Louis Clifford Goads of Lone Pine road, Bloomfield Hills. Mr. Goad is executive vice president of General Motors.

Maid of honor was Margaret Ann Perkin in a coronation blue accordion pleated ballerina dress. A tiny shrug jacket in matching velvet covered her shoulders and wisps of veiling secured by corded velvet cap, formed her headpiece.

BRIDESMAIDS were Linda Miller, cousin of the bride; Evelyn McCreery of Jacksonville, Ill.; Clarissa's roommate at the University of Illinois; Alice Stewart of Grand Rapids, Ill., also from the university; Ann Spademan of Birmingham; and Mrs. Henry M. Hogan, Jr., of Ann Arbor.

The maid of honor carried a spray bouquet of rubrum lilies and blush pink roses while the other attendants carried rubrum lilies and garnet roses. Their outfits were identical to the honor maid's.

LEONARDI Gandy Miller, cousin of the bride, Thomas' best man. Ushering the guests were David Goad, brother of the groom; Essie Thomas Hammond Adams, Jr., brother of the bride of San Diego, Calif.; Robin Johnston of Glen Elyon, Ill.; Henry M. Hogan, Jr., of Ann Arbor and three roommates of the groom who are from the University of Illinois: Richard Bostrum, Karl Brix and Don Manthel, all of Chicago.

A crimson velvet gown with a long full skirt, draped shoulder, and a matching velvet hat was worn by Mrs. Adams. Her flowers were white orchids.

Mrs. Goad chose a full length gown of beige French embroidered lace over shell pink peau de soie and cymbidium orchids.

TO START her wedding trip.

MRS. THOMAS CLIFFORD GOAD

Clarissa donned an Alice blue there.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mrs. Henry C. Adams and straw hat. Honeymoon destination of the couple will be New Orleans, La. and later San Francisco. The groom was commissioned an Ensign Feb. 6 and will report to the U.S.S. Henderson which has its home base in San Diego. The bride and groom have an apartment.

Suburban Scene

Senior Residents Hold Spotlight In Social Whirl

Wedding bells pealed last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lambert, 1705 E. 14 Mile, as the couple quietly observed their 50th wedding anniversary. Only members of their immediate family gathered at the home for an anniversary dinner.

Mr. Lambert celebrated his 84th birthday the week before, again with his family gathered around to extend best wishes.

The old gentleman has been a resident of the immediate area of Woodward and 14 Mile for 75 years, and has seen his family farm grow from wide fields into a closely developed subdivision.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert

Caribbean Cruise

Vacationers leaving Friday on a Caribbean cruise for Cuba and Guatemala will be welcomed by members of their family on their arrivals. The Walter G. Booths of Henley drive will be met in Havana by the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Booth. Cuban vacationers, who are headquartered at Vera Dero Beach.

Delta Gamma Plans Two-Fold Program

Installation of officers will highlight the Feb. 12 luncheon meeting of Birmingham Delta Gamma chapter at the Fox and Hounds.

Mrs. David Taylor will be seated as president; Mrs. H. M. Wright, vice president; Mrs. Edward Anderson, secretary; Mrs. W. L. Mueller, treasurer; Mrs. Helen Schaefer, public relations; Mrs. V. C. Hollenbeck, city riding chairman; Mrs. Henry Britton, Anchora correspondent.

Mrs. June Salisbury, supervisor of special education, Wayne county board of education, will speak.

Evening Bridge Club Open For Newcomers

The couples evening bridge, sponsored by the Birmingham Newcomers club, invite all newcomers in the area to attend their session, Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. at the Community House. No reservations are necessary.

Mrs. Lester Holt and Mrs. R. H. Butler, joint chairmen, will have as their hostesses Mrs. R. E. Miller, Mrs. W. H. Cooper, Mrs. S. Schumann, Mrs. Albert Turk, Mrs. Hugh Stevenson, and Mrs. F. E. Wall.

Dream Inspires Oriental Theme

The tea table that was revealed to members of the Bloomfield Hills Garden club at their meeting today reflected weeks of work on the part of Mrs. William G. Ferguson, hospitality chairman, and her committee.

The design was actually a dream of Mrs. William Ferguson, inspired by the beautiful Chinese decor of Mrs. Dean A. Draper's dining room where the party was held.

The centerpiece and table appointments followed a definite Oriental theme with a beautiful fan, a small Chinese deer of interest. From there Mrs. Ferguson developed an old-fashioned Valentine with flowers in many shades of pink. The centerpiece was placed on a mirror flanked by crystal candelabra.

THE FOOD served at tea time followed the same shades of subtle pink in shrimp sandwiches and gaily frosted tea cakes.

Other members assisting Mrs. Ferguson in arrangements were Mrs. Howard Harrington, Mrs. Albert A. Clark, Mrs. Donald L. O'Toole, Mrs. Frederick M. Oliver, Mrs. John C. Cowen, Mrs. Fred W. Lindbloom, Mrs. G. J. Hachner, Mrs. Harold W. Holmes.

Mrs. Louise Carpenter of Michigan State college was the speaker of the day.

Mrs. J. Hawley Otis, the new president of the club, announced the next Board meeting of the group would be held Monday, Feb. 21, at the home of Mrs. Earl Thompson, Woodridge road, Bloomfield Hills.

Tableau Depicts Founding of POE After 86 Years

From the humble beginning in 1869, the PEO Sisterhood has grown into a band of women well over 100,000 strong, using as their primary objective, cultural and educational.

This week the Oakland County Cooperative group celebrated the 86th birthday anniversary of its founding at a luncheon in the Birmingham Community House.

Low arrangements of white and yellow flowers, flanked by large gold stars bearing the letters PEO in black, provided the table setting. The numbers "86" in gold topped the individual place cards. To further the theme, portraits of the seven founders were drawn from actual photographs by two Washington junior high school boys in Pontiac.

FEATURED speaker was Mrs. Walter J. Teuwissen, Jr., who talked on "Women Are Here to Stay." Also on the program was Mrs. Fred W. (Penny) McRacken, soloist, and members of the Birmingham PEO chapter. Henry studied under Mischka Otter in Detroit and Isabel Phillips in New York and has appeared as a guest artist with the Detroit Symphony.

Tribute to the founders was paid by a group of women from the various chapters, garbed in costumes of the period of the founding. They symbolized the beginning in a tableau, the script for which was written and narrated

MRS. J. C. WRIGHT

MRS. G. M. CHANDLER

MRS. W. W. DOLAN

From Tableau of PEO Founders. (Eccentric Photo)

Tableau Depicts Founding of POE After 86 Years

From the humble beginning in 1869, the PEO Sisterhood has grown into a band of women well over 100,000 strong, using as their primary objective, cultural and educational.

This week the Oakland County Cooperative group celebrated the 86th birthday anniversary of its founding at a luncheon in the Birmingham Community House.

Low arrangements of white and yellow flowers, flanked by large gold stars bearing the letters PEO in black, provided the table setting. The numbers "86" in gold topped the individual place cards. To further the theme, portraits of the seven founders were drawn from actual photographs by two Washington junior high school boys in Pontiac.

FEATURED speaker was Mrs. Walter J. Teuwissen, Jr., who talked on "Women Are Here to Stay." Also on the program was Mrs. Fred W. (Penny) McRacken, soloist, and members of the Birmingham PEO chapter. Henry studied under Mischka Otter in Detroit and Isabel Phillips in New York and has appeared as a guest artist with the Detroit Symphony.

Tribute to the founders was paid by a group of women from the various chapters, garbed in costumes of the period of the founding. They symbolized the beginning in a tableau, the script for which was written and narrated

SEVEN girls attending Clow Westway college founded PEO on Jan. 22, 1869.

Departing their part in the program were Mrs. Claude Sheridan, Mrs. C. Teeple, Mrs. J. C. Wright, Mrs. E. E. Laudaack of Detroit, organizer; Mrs. A. H. Smith of Grand Pointe Park, recording secretary, and also six past state presidents.

Delta Gamma Plans Two-Fold Program

Installation of officers will highlight the Feb. 12 luncheon meeting of Birmingham Delta Gamma chapter at the Fox and Hounds.

Mrs. David Taylor will be seated as president; Mrs. H. M. Wright, vice president; Mrs. Edward Anderson, secretary; Mrs. W. L. Mueller, treasurer; Mrs. Helen Schaefer, public relations; Mrs. V. C. Hollenbeck, city riding chairman; Mrs. Henry Britton, Anchora correspondent.

Mrs. June Salisbury, supervisor of special education, Wayne county board of education, will speak.

Evening Bridge Club Open For Newcomers

The couples evening bridge, sponsored by the Birmingham Newcomers club, invite all newcomers in the area to attend their session, Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. at the Community House. No reservations are necessary.

Mrs. Lester Holt and Mrs. R. H. Butler, joint chairmen, will have as their hostesses Mrs. R. E. Miller, Mrs. W. H. Cooper, Mrs. S. Schumann, Mrs. Albert Turk, Mrs. Hugh Stevenson, and Mrs. F. E. Wall.