

Puppeteers Meeting To Discuss Program

Plans for the spring program will be discussed when the Birmingham AAUW Program will be discussed when the Birmingham AAUW Puppeteers meet at 8 p.m. Feb. 15 at the John S. Lambie home, 280 Aspen.

Thousands of people read The Eccentric Classified Ads. So remember, if you want to sell that hard-to-get-rid-of article, advertise it in the Want Ad section of The Birmingham Eccentric.

The script of a new play being prepared for showing in churches and schools will be discussed, along with performance schedules.

SUBURBAN SCENE

Valentine Motif

Red Valentine candy boxes served a dual purpose for the Feb. 3 Newcomers club afternoon dessert bridge. They were the centerpiece for the serving table and the bridge prizes. Prizes were won by Mrs. Alfred Ryan, Mrs. John Joyner, Mrs. John W. Greve, Mrs. Walter Riley, Mrs. Philip Cartwright and Mrs. Timothy Meadows.

Heirloom Wedding Veil

A bride of the future is Mary Hopkins, who will become the wife of Lt. William Gibbs II, on April 14.

Last week her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Hopkins of Berwyn road, returned from a trip to Kensington, Md., in preparation for the wedding, where they visited Dr. and Mrs. William Gibbs, Bill's parents.

They brought home with them part of Mary's wedding attire, the bridal veil of Bill's great great grandmother, which she will wear for her wedding.

When Mary was home on mid-semester vacation from the University of Wisconsin, she was feted with showers. Hosting a luncheon and linen shower at the Bloomfield Hills Country club were Mrs. James Goodman, Mrs. Algic Hendrix and Mrs. George Tischer.

A tea at the Kirkway road home of Mrs. E. S. Wellock, in Bloomfield Hills entertained a host of friends at a personal shower.

Mrs. Charles Drake entertained at her home on Pilgrim at a luncheon and kitchen shower at which time Mary's classmates and their mothers were present.

For the Younger Set

Saturday night was the scene of an elaborate combined birthday and senior class party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick N. Pew, Wing Lake road. It was the 18th birthday of Mrs. Pew's son, Ralph Garlick, son of the Richard Garlicks, Wing Lake road.

Ralph is a senior at Bloomfield Hills high school and the party was also for his class.

The Pews have a large picture window in their recreation room, facing Chalmers Lake. This window was trimmed like a giant, done heart valentine. Across the center of one heart read, "Happy Birthday Ralph" and across the other, "Congratulations, Class of '55". A chocolate birthday cake, iced in white and captioned the same in red lettering, completed the decor.

Guests skated to music on Chalmers lake at the immediate rear of the home. The area was lighted and a bonfire blazed on the ice. The night was cold and brisk so the sumptuous buffet was heartily and hastily consumed by the skaters.

Toboggan Part

Delta Gamma Chi sorority of Wayne University entertained Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity at a toboggan party last Saturday evening after which the crowd gathered at the home of the William C. Bunnells on West Dartmoor road for more play in the snow followed by charades and dancing, food and hot coffee.

Bonfire and Skating

The home of Robert Herrgott, son of the Alex Herrgotts, West Maple road is located on the Wing Lake lagoon. This made a perfect location for the 9th grade of Bloomfield Hills high school to have their skating party last Friday.

The bonfire by the sea wall and three all around the skating clearance made an impressive sight.

The 50 guests were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Herrgott, Mr. Lemke, algebra teacher and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Koehn, Cherokee road.
