Claims Zoning Doesn't Create Business Areas

To the Editor: The writer has appreciated receiving your weekly issues during recent absences from Birmingham with the full accounts in your pages of the steps taken by the city commission and city manager toward the opening of a municipal parking lot, or lots, in addition to the parking facilities developed by private interests in Birmingham during the recent year 1954.

We have noted a united effort on the part of the City officials to bring about continued improvement in the handling of automobile traffic which visits the older shopping area in the neighborhood of the Maple-Woodward intersection.

We hope improvement can be brought about, but increased congestion in this area will possibly result.

ON ANOTHER point, there seems to be considerable confusion in the thinking of some city officials, as to the nature and effect of zoning ordinances and similar legislation on the development of the community.

Zoning ordinances do not create a business district. Zoning ordinances help preserve a value which already exists.

We see our planning commission constantly studying requested zoning changes to meet changed conditions as the community develops. Zoning actions follow the trend and do not start new forces of development.

IN SPITE of these facts, there is a mistaken assumption that when property around the proposed Brown-Merrill-Pierce parking lot was zoned for business use, the very act of zoning created a business district.

Twenty years have since gone by. Twenty years of business zoning have not brought a single business structure in this area of residential properties.

It is now proposed that a large section of this so-called "business district" shall be converted to the least productive of all property uses, namely, a municipal parking lot. Do you consider these residential properties are to be assessed to help pay for the operation?

CITY OFFICIALS cannot know and cannot estimate the benefits, if any, may accrue from this project. Such parking lots have retarded development of adjacent property in Royal Oak.

Greyhound Adds New Detroit Run

Return trip will leave Detroit at 4:51 p.m., arriving here at 6:55 p.m. Other schedules remain unchanged.

Youths Await Trial for Rape

Two Pontiac youths wanted examination Wednesday for charges of assault with intent to rape a 13-year-old girl.

Morris E. Hoag, 17, and Charles W. Schuman, 18, were bound over for trial in circuit court. They are charged with forcing the Birmingham girl into their car last week. A third youth was released.

Hills Woman Appointed To ARC Post

Dr. Ernest Bauer of Hazel Park, blood chairman of Oakland county chapter of American Red Cross, announces the appointment of Mrs. Adolph Magnus of Bloomfield Hills as blood chairman for the Pontiac area.

The appointment was made to replace Mrs. N. E. Durocher who resigned the post she has held since 1953.

The new chairman has been active in Red Cross in this area as a fund raiser. In 1953 she was chairman of Pontiac's fund drive.

"UPON TAKING over her new job Mrs. Magnus will automatically become a member of the blood advisory committee for the county," Dr. Bauer says.
