Sorority Shows Cruisewear

Travel in the winter may call for complete new wardrobes, welcome relief from warm and wooly Michigan tog.

So the Gamma Phi Beta sorority members are on Jan. 27 staging a preview of just such clothes—sleek cocktail dresses like the one being modeled for Mrs. Fred Gould, president of the sorority in the photo shown, gay southern sports clothes, and cruise wear.

Funds gathered will go to the sorority's retarded children program. Tea at 1:30 and the fashion show, being presented by Davidson's of Woodward avenue in Birmingham, are scheduled.

ALL ARE AIMED for the resort and cruise wear, according to Mrs. Gould and Mrs. Pell Hollingshead who are in charge of ticket sales for the event at the Community house.

North Adams
DIBBY SMITH, MI 4-2723

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gardner Lewis of 5810 North Adams have returned from a three weeks' visit through the South. They drove to Charleston, S. C., and on down the coast to Key West. Christmas day found them in Ft. St. Petersburg. Then they headed homeward, spending New Year's weekend with their nephew, Donald Diederich, in his home at Watkins lake.

Friends from Grosse Pointe, Detroit and Birmingham were invited to the open house that Mr. and Mrs. Lynn W. Huddle held at their Rutherford Hill drive home Sunday, Jan. 2. The hours for the party were three to nine so that guests living the farthest away were invited for the earlier part of the festivities while those living nearer came a little later, and the hosts' near neighbors came in the evening. That same week they were hosts to a group of business associates and their wives.

On that rainy, sleety, slippery Wednesday evening during the holidays, Sharon Brodie celebrated her thirteenth birthday. Sharon, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brodie of Harwood road, was hostess to a group of her friends. Dinner and games kept the group well occupied for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kelsour of Hydeau drive and their two children Paul, aged seven, and four-year-old Karen sent to New York City for a week. They were there for all the fun and excitement of New Year's eve returning home the Sunday after the holidays. Mrs. Kelsour's mother staying with their baby while they were away.

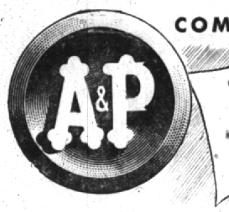

Mr. and Mrs. Erich E. Labahn entertained their many friends at an open house last week in their home on Longmeadow drive.

The M. P. Lenbachs have returned to their home on Pine Hill drive after a two-weeks visit with their families at Ocean Grove and Newark, New Jersey.

COUNTRY ROADS
The dirt road in our area are becoming well known for their condition. One automobile agency and one service garage knows these rough-farous show up any automobile in a car that might even be thinking of a squeak, and add that periodically a lightning up is necessary. A short time ago when one resident's car was in for this service, the mechanic found the horns were just about to drop off.

On the Sunday after New Year's Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McGowan were hosts to their friends at an open house in their home on Pine Hill drive.

WELCOME NEWCOMERS
4135 Orchard Hill drive is the new address of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Fulton. Moving day for this young couple was Nov. 1.
