

Temporary Office Set Up for Help On Income Taxes

Five agents of the U. S. Internal Revenue department will set up temporary offices in Royal Oak, Feb. 1 through Feb. 18, to advise taxpayers in preparing their tax returns, according to A. M. Manning, district director of Internal Revenue.

The offices will be on the second floor of the Y.P.W. hall, 214 E. 4th street, and hours will be from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The office will be closed on Saturdays.

After Feb. 21, assistance on tax returns may be gained at the Pontiac office, 53 1/2 W. Huron.

Schools Take Part In Two Contests For CH Roll Call

Judges have been announced for the two contests to be held by Birmingham schools in connection with the 1955 Birmingham Community House Roll Call.

Russell E. Robinson, drive chairman, said Marshall Fredericks and Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert F. Swanson would judge the poster contest.

Winners will be presented with special awards, and a number of posters will be displayed in Birmingham stores during the two-week drive, Feb. 14-28.

Judges for the editorial contest among journalism students will be William Zook, Mrs. Henry M. Jackson and Mrs. Robert H. Perse. The winning editorial will be published in The Birmingham Eccentric.

Suggests Meters On Access Drive

Before city commissioners place any parking meters along access drives, they want to know just how many cars in the city this would affect.

Assistant Manager D. C. Eghtor was asked to have such an analysis prepared for subsequent discussion. The suggestion came from M. E. Snider, local realtor, who asked that meters be placed in front of stores at Chesterfield and W. Maple.

He intimated he also would like the city to extend the metered area to the parking lot behind the stores, which he said would be paved this spring.

Permitting Would Rezone Parking

A change in zoning so a parking lot can be placed behind a proposed office building at the northwest corner of Redding and Woodward has been referred to the city plan board.

Petitioner is A. L. Kassaban, who also has before parliament a request to rezone the southwest corner to permit new terrace units.

MRS. ALICE BURLINGAME, Eccentric columnist and speaker for the E. J. Hudson bureau: "Everyone needs something that takes them away from their own troubles. I have worked with a woman very depressed by the death of her husband, and took her with me to help some other people in real need. She's becoming much happier because of helping others."
