Mendelssohns, Wolffs Host Cocktail, Buffet Party

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Mendelssohn and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Wolff of Juniper Court telephoned invitations to 50 of their Pine Hill neighbors to a "get-to-know-you-better" cocktail party and outdoor buffet reception.

The adjoining lawns were set with garden furniture and while Ed served cocktails from his new work bench in the Mendelssohn's garage, John attended to the charcoal grill.

Neighbor William G. Mason, better known as Bill, entertained the guests later in the evening with colored slides he had taken of the recent atomic tests at Yucca Flats.

Vacationing last weekend at Hidden Valley were the Andrew L. and Huttons of 4853 Beach road and friends from Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. George Berger and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaufman.

This Sunday, Mrs. Phillip D. French of 4665 Dover, Bloomfield Township, will entertain at a family barbecue for 25 guests, all from out of town. Relatives are expected from Garrett, Ind., and from Albion and Jackson.

Bob French, 12, returned home last Saturday from Brighton, where he attended Boy Scout camp for two weeks with Troop 16-4 of Adams school.

The new I-shaped pool, which opened there this summer, was all Bob could talk about. He hopes to return for at least another week of camp life before school opens in order to spend more time on his Merit Badges.

CO-HOST LUNCHEON

In honor of Marilyn Walters, home from London, England, where she attended school, Mrs. James A. Cummins and her co-hostess, Mrs. Jack Charipar of Royal Oak, entertained in Mrs. Cummins' Walnut Hill home at a luncheon on July 7th.

Bradford Smith, 6, of 4251 North Adams road is the proud fisherman in the Richard S. Smith family. While vacationing recently with his family in the Upper Peninsula at Lake Manistique, Bradford caught a 16-inch pike.

The Smiths were guests for ten days at the summer cottage of their friends and neighbors from Hickory Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hall of 4195 Meadowdale drive.

Before returning home, the two families spent some time at Blaney Park and took the children by ferry boat up to see the Soo locks.

House guests for a recent week end at the Pine Hill drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Oliver were Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Grund of Cincinnati, formerly of Batterman Hill drive.

Sunday the Oliviers had 20 guests in for a steak roast and covered-dish party. Guests were the Walter Seibels, Harry Siegel, Gerald Switz, Richard B. Smith, and the James Thompasons. From Foxcroft came the E. Joseph Gryzows who had hosted a cocktail party on Saturday in honor of the Grundts.

The Richard B. Smiths entertained at a patio-brunch on Monday for the Oliviers' houseguests. For more than 15 years, it has been a tradition for Mrs. Oliver to attend the opera season in Cincinnati. She and Oliver with their daughter, Judy, left Tuesday for the Ohio city where they are guests of the Grundts, and together they will see "La Traviata."

On Saturday the Oliviers will go on to Indianapolis, their former home, for a week's visit.

Mrs. Robert Dudley of Manor road has returned from Michigan State College where she chaperoned 13 girls from Oakland county at the L-H Club week.

Bankers from Birmingham Numerous at Convention

Bankers who live in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills were in sizable number attending the convention of the Michigan Bankers association last week.

Right from the top of the association, the 700 attending the meet at the Hotel Statler in Detroit included many localities.

Acting as president, Herbert H. Gardner, who is president of the Birmingham and Ferndale National Banks, presided at several sessions and gave his "evaugural" address just before the election of the new president of the state group.

HE AND MRS. Gardner hosted about 75 at an open house in the Statler's presidential suite on Thursday night, and on Friday, a large number as well.

Among their guests were the board members and their friends, and those who sat at the speakers' table for the annual banquet.

Detroit Bank, Glen C. Menninger, vice-president of the same bank, and Russell Swaney, vice-president of the Federal Reserve bank in Detroit.

OTHERS WERE William F. Dingman, president of the Bank of Commerce in Hamtramck, S. E. Milne, vice-president of the Bank of the Commonwealth, Detroit, Harold DeOliver, assistant cashier at the Manufacturers National Bank, Detroit, Vance L. Desmond, and Edwin S. Snyder, both vice-presidents of the Detroit Trust company.

Still other bankers were Edward Adams, Jr., and Richard D. Mangle, vice-president of the National Bank of Detroit.

Altar Date Set By Roberta Yocum

Mr. and Mrs. Don A. Yocum of Roscommon announce the engagement of their daughter, Roberta Elaine, to William M. Lockie, Jr. Bill's parents are the William M. Lockies of East Livonia avenue.

Both Bill and Roberta are students at Ohio college and plan to return in the fall.

The wedding date is set for Aug. 25, 1955, and will be held in the central hall of the Roscommon.
