Welcome Mat Out for Six New Neighborhood Families

Six new families who have moved to Graefield road hail from various parts of the country, with one family coming here from Pakistan.

Someone mat is out for Mr. and Mrs. Art C. Hanson and their sons, 15-year old Dale and 11-year old Larry.

Formerly of Austin, Minn., the Hansons are now living at 1722 Graefield road. Harold attended the University of Minnesota, and enjoys golf and bowling; Mrs. Hanson is interested in ceramic work and likes to sew.

Dale and Larry are fisherman who like their own fishing gear. The Hansons will attend the Methodist church; Hanson is a sales engineer for Republic Steel in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Weorne, formerly of Cleveland and their son Richard, 3, have moved to their new home at 1065 Graefield road. The Weornes are from Pennsylvania and will attend the Methodist church.

Weorne is in the accounting department at General Motors central office. An alumnus of Lehigh university, he has interests in boats, planes and golf at his hobbies. Mrs. Weorne is a bridge enthusiast.

FROM PAKISTAN

The Frank L. Drew family are busy getting settled at 1636 Graefield road. Mrs. Drew is a native of London, England, where she hails from the states. For six years they lived in Pakistan where Drew was with the American International Underwriters' Insurance Co. and where their son, 5-year old Frank, was born.

An alumnus of the University of New York, Drew is now a special agent for the American Home Assurance Co. His hobby is painting. Mrs. Drew attended the Chiswick Polytechnical commercial school in London. Her hobby has been Pakistan dancing, and she plans to use Pakistan brass, copper and ivory art pieces to decorate her home.

Formerly of Mill Valley, Calif.

Musical Women Go To Interlochen Meet

When a group of Birmingham music lovers attended the state convention, at Interlochen, of the Michigan Federation of Music clubs this week, they glimpsed what several of their scholarship recipients are doing at the music camp there.

The National Music Camp at Interlochen, the camp that Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, with aid of universities and clubs has built into a nationally famous institution for young musicians, has attracted several of Birmingham's youthful players this summer.

They are mostly members of the two high school clubs sponsored by the Birmingham Musicians.

MEMBERS of the Musicians at the Federation meeting were Mrs. I. W. Robertson, state treasurer, Mrs. Herbert H. Gardner, and Mrs. D. L. Tate, all members of the state board, Mrs. Robert D. Lynd, incoming president of the Musicians, and Mrs. Donald Stanton.

Mrs. Stanton was to go to the camp from her summer home in Woodstock, and Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Tate and Lynd expected to stop overnight at her home on their way back to Birmingham last night.

Mrs. Arthur Penny, localite who is on the state board and is its educational chairman, was unable to attend the convention.

Helping Ann and David celebrate will be Bonnie Crombie, David Robinson, Patty Duffy, Ralph Redmond and Wally McCarthy of Graefield and former Graefielders, Alice and David Moulton.

The Fays entertained Fay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. Fay of Wilmington, Del., last weekend. Saturday evening the Fays will host a party for Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy, who will soon be moving to their new home.

Guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Redmond, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Parker, and the John Duffys of Graefield road.

MAIKIA is studying piano, Garry, cornet, and Nan, percussion. Nan, who graduated this June, will enter Michigan State this fall.

The three are concluding their three-week's summer study this week. She and Pat are Junior League musical members, and Garry a Keynoter.

Chairmen of the federation include, from this area, John R. Phelps, of Walnut Lake road, and American composition chairman; Mrs. Mrs. Gardner, bulletin editor and means chairman; and Penny, education in the Lower Peninsula chairman.
