

Teenagers Study Music at MSU

Seven Birmingham students are enrolled in a special four-week youth music course sponsored by the department of music at Michigan State University.

Birmingham high students attending are Mary Jo Alligier, 209 Southlawn, Pat Barkley, 695 Henrietta, Nan DeRigues, 1420 Saffield avenue, Gary Johnson, 51737 Kirkshire and Carol Reed, 1231 Cedar street.

Students from Bloomfield Hills high school attending the 10th annual summer session are Phyllis Anne Steele, 4024 Oakhill drive, and Jacquie Trombley, 1290 Lakeside.

The course was open to students in grades 7 through 12 and to June graduates. The young people participate in various musical games, including a concert band, a training band for beginners, orchestra, vocal choir, and a string ensemble. A father-son week will be climaxed by concerts by these groups.

Classwork in music theory is required of each student, with special work also offered in conducting and music listening.

The students are living in college dorms and are able to canoe on the Red Cedar, ice skate at the campus rink, and join in other planned activities.

New Officers Meet

"Operator! This is an emergency!"

Mrs. James K. Stowe, of Northville, was in the kitchen when she heard Vicky Lynn scream.

The 17-month-old baby had climbed to the top of the stairs. By the time Mrs. Stowe reached her, the baby had fallen to the bottom, injuring herself badly.

The frantic mother rushed to the telephone. She knew she must get someone to take them to the hospital.

When the operator, Mrs. Shirley Gode, heard Mrs. Stowe's excited voice she quickly called the Service Assistant, Mrs. Florence Russell, in case extra help was needed.

Mrs. Stowe declined the operators' offer to call the police. After making several unsuccessful calls to relatives, she finally reached her aunt, Mrs. Lester Kitchen. She sped to the house and took the Stowes to the hospital.

There little Vicky Lynn's injuries were treated and Mrs. Stowe took her home.

Mrs. Stowe wrote to Michigan Bell: "The operators were so nice, even though they could hardly hear me. My baby was crying and I was so upset I could hardly speak. Thank you for your wonderful assistance when I needed help so badly."

TWO BIRMINGHAM QUEENS

pose on a cement crosswalk over the Rouge river flowing through Baldwin park near the waterfall. Seated is Miss Gail Progress (Janice Pike of Floyd street) and standing is Miss Birmingham (Patricia Tallot of Holland). Introduced by The Birmingham Eccentric because royalty should be acquainted with royalty, Pat and Jan found they both had dozens of pictures taken for weeks following their elections—Jan last October and Pat just two weeks ago. Jan was chosen by all industry firms in the Detroit area, and is still having fun with her title at the Pontiac branch of Socons to which she has since transferred from the Detroit branch. Pat, who is doing some commercial art for local stores during her vacation before her senior year at Birmingham High school, won her title in the contest sponsored by Arthur Murray dance studio here. Both girls have turned down modeling positions to continue with their favorite careers, but both look forward to being happy homemakers after careers.
