

SWIM SUITS MODELING ON PARTY AGENDA Mrs. J. R. Blakeney and Mrs. Richard W. Miner.

Pool Opens, Party Sees Dance on Rim

The water may be too chilly for much swimming when the Forest Lake country club opens its pool with a gay poolside party Saturday night, but swim suits will be in evidence.

A style show of boys for aquatic activities will be presented by Mrs. Charles W. Sacher, chairman of the review.

MUSIC WILL BE presented by a co-chairman for the party, Ward Stoddard, who solved the band problem by forming a 10-piece orchestra from members who know how to blow a horn, beat a drum or make music with other instruments.

They'll play for dancing among tables on the pool deck and on the terrace directly behind the club building that overlooks the pool and its willow background.

Dinnering starts at 9 p.m. according to Stoddard and his co-chairman, Alan R. Pfaff. Their wives are aiding them as hostesses.

WOMEN'S CLUB will have a mid-buster's party Tuesday, June 21, at the club. A luncheon and bridge, the event is at 12:30 p.m. Prizes will be given for the craziest hat, according to Mrs. Herschel A. Miller, general chairman of the event.

Her committee is Mrs. Walter D. Ludwig, Mrs. Thaddeus C. Quinn, Mrs. Milton Fields, Mrs. Bernard Girard, Mrs. William E. Hartman, Mrs. G. Russell Widger, Mrs. Clifford A. Ross, Mrs. Edward F. Lewis, Mrs. Alfred R. Waters, and Mrs. Donald M. Bronson.

Choral Clinic Has Auditions Opening

The WJR Choral Clinic, training nation's foremost developers of ground for the famous "Make Way for Youth" chorus, has openings for young vocalists between the ages of 15 and 21 wanting to further develop their talent.

In announcing the openings Don Large, Goodwill station choral director, said auditions would be held June 21 through July 6, for young vocalists between the ages of 15 and 21 wanting to further develop their talent.

Members of the clinic are eligible for the "Make Way for Youth" chorus, broadcast over nationwide network since 1947.

Applicants accepted for the clinic will receive special training under Don Large, one of the best people as a WJR public service.

'Poodle Pavilion' To Be Attraction At '55 Horse Show

Something new will be added to the Detroit horse show this year on the Bloomfield Open Hunt club grounds.

"Pavillon Le Poodle" is expected to attract considerable attention as for the first time, the Oakland County Animal Welfare Association operates its own booth.

The special building has been planned and donated by Mrs. Jack Davis and Rocco De Marco of Bloomfield Hills. Two miniature and one standard poodles will be exhibited through the courtesy of Mrs. Davis and Miss Louise Stannard of Grosse Pointe.

THE SOCIETY is cooperating with horse show committees in the sale of box tickets. Memberships to their own group will be sold at the pavilion. Mrs. David, membership chairman, with Mrs. James Goudie, co-chairman, list the following hostesses: Marion LeFaive, Madames E. S. Welbeck, Howard Harrington, D. W. Candler, Lewis Marshall, Horace Shaw, A. H. Meyer, Lester Colman, William C. Ferguson, Leroy Vandever, Clyde Reehl, W. Lipley Hague and Miss Josephine Collins.

Evening hostesses are Misses Phoebe Otter, Lindsay Vandever, Faith Harrington, Sheila Flannery and Heidi Flannery.

Former presidents of Battle Creek, the H. N. Barnes, who recently moved into their new home at 1024 Norwich? Their children are Kathy, Janie, and Marsha. Barnes enjoys bowling and golf, while Mrs. Barnes paints, plays bridge, and likes to sew. Both Mr. and Mrs. Barnes attended Michigan State university, where she was affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Society deadline is 3 p.m. each Tuesday.
