Make Final Plans for Visit Of Finnish Girl Guides

Meeting recently at the home of Mrs. T. A. Gibbs, members of the program committee of the Southern Oakland County Council of Girl Scouts made final plans for a visit from four Girl Guides from Finland.

They are Mrs. Robert Kelso, chairman, and Mrs. John St. Clair. Arriving on July 28, the girls will be the guests of senior American Girl Scouts in hostess homes.

Helena Luostarinen, 19, of Varkaus Finland will visit the home of Mrs. Paul Sinton of Berkley. Meri Juvak, 16, of Helsinki, will be a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arlort Karakas of Royal Oak. Mrs. and Mrs. Donald Jennings of Ferndale will entertain Tuula Holmen 19, of Jamsankanta. Maria Jagerow, 18, of Helsinki, will stay with the A. W. Hendersons of Pleasant Ridge.

During their stay, the Finnish visitors will exchange scouting ideas with the American girls and demonstrate their native dances and scouting activities.

They will also ride buses with the younger Scouts and Brownies to camp Indian and learn all about day camp work. Plans are being made for the girls to appear on television, and to visit the Ford Rouge plant and Greer Village. They will be given cameras, film and scrap books so they can take back home lasting mementos of their trip.

SILVER LINING

Beautiful Judith Ann Nelson looked out the window last Saturday and thought her day was ruined.

Judith had been looking forward to marching in the Davy Crockett Day parade with her doll and decorated carriage. And it wasn't only the day of the parade, it was the day of her 7th birthday party. Then the sun came out, and Judith dried her tears.

She pushed her doll around the parade route, and went home to her party to share her fun with Diane and Judy Martin, Nan and Rue Spudon, Sharon, Esman, Valerie Brown and Valerie Maier.

Sunday, June 19 has been set as open-house day at the C. A. Here residence on Hedden drive. Honoring their daughter, Grace Herr, who is graduating from Southfield High school, the Herts have invited members of the senior class to call. The table will be decorated with class colors, and miniature marching graduates in caps and gowns.

Among the out-of-town guests will be Irvin Brown and Jack Quail of St. Petersburg, Fla. Other guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davey, and Miss Beatrice Pingston.

Special notice to weeds and mosquitos—keep out of the H. F. Froehlich garden on Glenwood avenue. With a garden party planned for June 18, it won't be a very safe place for you.

187 Graduate At Southfield

Southfield high school graduated 187 seniors last evening in the school auditorium. Principal speaker at the ceremony was Douglas Jamieson, Detroit board of education member, whose topic was "Moving Up." He was introduced by Glenn Schoenberger, superintendent of Southfield schools.

Martina Van Ameyde, Southfield high school principal, presented the school's second graduating class with Fred Leonard, president of Southfield board of education, presenting diplomas.

THE Rev. Harvey M. Luce, pastor of the Southfield United Methodist church gave the invocation while the Rev. Eay H. Bayler, pastor of the Southfield Community church closed the ceremony with the benediction.

Singing "Exit We Now Thy Holy Name" by Henniger, the school rolled their chairs up on the program and the high school uniform band played Eliza's "Pomp and Circumstance" for the class procession, and Robert's "Pomp and Chivalry" for the recessional.

SUNDAY evening, June 12, Baccalaureate services were held with the Dr. William Clyde Douglas, minister of the First Methodist church, Ypsilanti, as principal speaker.

The Rev. Ray Middleton, pastor of St. Mark's United Brethren church, gave the invocation; the Rev. David Edens, pastor of the Northwestern Baptist church, the Rev. J. H. Jones, pastor of the St. Paul's Episcopal church, and the Rev. E. J. Davis, minister of the Southfield Methodist church introduced Dr. Douglas.
