Both were vacationing with their parents, the Warren H. Williams and the John Shepherds, respectively, in apartments at Hillsboro house in Pompano Beach, Fla.

Women Painters Show Art

"Quartermore," estate of J. Phillip Moses, is again going to be scene of an exhibit of the Birmingham Society of Women Painters.

The home, gardens and lake are a favorite spot for the women artists, who have done many scenes about the estate since they began taking their weekly painting excursions there.

The exhibit is set for June 7, from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. and will feature current paintings by all members.

CONTEMPORARY styles of painting are far more common in the group than the academic paintings once done by the society members, according to one member. She cites influence of the club's adviser, Emil Weddige, University of Michigan art professor who works with them at their weekly sessions.

The paintings being shown are all more recent than those shown at the society's recent event in Shain park.

Mrs. George O. Catter is chairman of the event, but Weddige will be on hand the day previous to the show to supervise hanging of the paintings about the Moses home. Mrs. John H. Hoppin, Jr., heads the women's committee in charge of staging.

New PTA Installs Officers At Queen of Martyrs School

The newly formed PTA at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs School held its first election Thursday evening in the social hall.

Mrs. Dick Roach, the temporary chairman, handed the gavel to Jack Cleary after he was elected the president of the new group.

Other newly elected officers are Frank Murphy, first vice president; Mrs. Paul Rebe, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Brindle, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Suzi, corresponding secretary and Richard Thomas, treasurer.

Mrs. Mark Goddard, representative from the Michigan State branch of the National Congress of PTA, welcomed the new officers and spoke to the parents.

Another highlight of the evening was the announcement that Jack Simmons had been appointed athletic chairman of the group.

Kathleen Mary, three week old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Foeck of Loebische, was christened May 22, at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs church with the Rev. Lucian Herbert officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pilarski were Kathleen's godparents. Kathleen Mary has a 10-year-old sister, Pamela, and two brothers, Douglas, 11, and Gregg, 3.

VISIT CHICAGO

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent McCarthy of Beverly road spent a week in their home. On Friday, Bryan celebrated his 11th birthday with an outdoor luncheon and marshmallow roast.

Among his guests were Christine Dugfelder, Patricia Hartner, Kit Sifferman, and Kathleen Kelly, Michael Cotter, Dennis Currier, Camillus Walsh, Michael Slayden and Dick Knuff.

On Saturday, Paul, 4, had his day, with a morning party and a candy hunt. His guests were Kathy Saracino and the three Hill girls, Pamela, Cynthia and Priscilla, and Paul's sister, Karen.

Mrs. Samuel Bela, Mrs. Dowdy Brewer and Mrs. Paul Osterling were among the mothers from the area who attended the program put on by pupils at the Beverly school last Friday.

Tomorrow, pupils of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs school, who are students at the Borgo Sisters dancing school will hold recitals. Second graders will perform at 12:30 p.m.; third, fourth and fifth grade boys at 1 p.m., third, fourth and fifth grade girls at 1:30 p.m. and first and second graders at 2 p.m.

A blazing gun battle had broken up the political meeting in a mountain community notorious for feud- ing and fighting.

"What started the shooting?" asked a visitor from the outside. "Feller made a motion that was out of order," a graybeard told him.

"Well, it was outrageous and undemocratic to start trouble over that," the outlander fumed. "What was the motion?"

"Toward the hip pocket," the oldest drawled.
