Fire Stations To Get Special Traffic Lights

Start of fire department runs from their new stations will be made faster and safer with the installation of special traffic control signals which the Birmingham city commission has approved.

A light at Pleasant-Fairfax and Maple will assist movement out of the Chesterfield station, while Adams road traffic will be halted while trucks emerge from the east-side station.

The Pleasant signal will operate on blinking yellow for Maple, blinking red for Pleasant-Fairfax. The Adams signals will stay green until a run is made.

From the station houses, the systems can be turned on red until the fire trucks clear the driveways.
