

Mrs. R. Strickland Heads UM Council

The University of Michigan Alumnae of Birmingham are very happy to announce the election of Mrs. Russell Strickland, Country Club Drive as the new chairman of the Alumnae Council of the University of Michigan.

The election means that she will direct all activities of alumnae groups throughout the country and will be a member of many committees relating to world-wide university programs.

Mrs. Strickland received this honor on June 10 at a national alumnae meeting and at that time Mrs. Charles Shain, Mrs. Robert Watt, Mrs. Fred Henny, and Mrs. William Burlingame were in Ann Arbor for the occasion.

AT THAT TIME Dean of Women Deborah Bacon emphasized planning and construction of a new activities building for all students which will encourage members of this large student body to break up into many interest groups for leadership training and an opportunity to know each other well.

News of the year for Birmingham Alumnae is the 1955 scholarship award to high school senior Bill Dove. He has received many honors and this award will join his recognition for the Marc J. J. award.

THIS OUTSTANDING young man was chosen for this recognition due to his high scholarship record, outstanding leadership, broad participation in school activities, and the desire to attend the University of Michigan.

Alumnae of the University of Michigan meet four times a year in Birmingham and at each meeting a program is presented to acquaint the graduates with university developments or they hear a graduate who has identified herself in a field of endeavor.

FOR THIS COMING year the officers will be: Mrs. Fred Henny, president; Mrs. Carl Abbott, vice president; Mrs. Norris Host, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary Paulman, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas

Whirlwind Schedule Keeps Conrads Busy

There are few idle moments at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Conrad, 1754 S. Bates.

This past weekend the Conrads were in Arlington, Va., where seven-year-old Judy was flower girl at the wedding of Mary Louise Reed and Bernard Stuart Foote.

The bride's mother, a close friend of the Conrads, is the daughter of Dr. Thomas Reed, city government expert of Ann Arbor.

While in Virginia, the Conrads were hosts at the bridal luncheon in Alexandria.

This week they will be hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sinkule of Ann Arbor, here for the horse show at Bloomfield Open Hunt.

Next week the elder Conrads with Judy and Chris are moving into their new home on Square Lake road.

Return from Florida

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Collins have returned to their Colonial court home after a two-month stay in Florida. With them are Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Collins of Miami who will enjoy a short visit before going on to Buffalo to see their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. Stuart Collins.

Evans, social chairman; Mrs. Robert Kintworth, program; Mrs. Neal Hyde, membership; Mrs. William Bird, merchandise chairman and Mrs. Robert Reid, ways and means.

Council representatives are Mrs. Strickland and Mrs. Fred Henny.

Has Role With Melody Circus

When the next performance of the Melody Circus theater opens June 28, a Birmingham dancer, Bruce Carlisle, will be among the cast of "Brigadoon".

The son of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Carlisle, and a 1953 graduate of Birmingham high school, young Carlisle is making his second appearance in this particular musical.

Other shows in which he danced prior to finishing high school include the University of Detroit production of "Tight Up the Lane", and a session with Cranbrook's dance drama.

After leaving the high school Carlisle enrolled in the Juillard school of music in New York where he majored in dancing. His studies include composition and choreography.

He has appeared on the Arlene Francis TV show and has been a regular member of the Boris Humphrey, Shirley Houghton and Arid Dance companies, all of New York.

In addition, he has performed with the internationally famous Jose Limon at a New York concert.

Last year he was under contract with the Cain Park theater in Cleveland.

He will take part in several of the Melody Circus 19 programs.
