Mrs. Burlingame In Work on Aged Junior Women Honoring Officers

Alice W. Burlingame, coordinator of the South Eastern Michigan Horticultural Therapy Council, will be among 100 experts participating as staff members in the 8th annual Conference on Aging at The University of Michigan, June 27-30.

"Applying Today's Knowledge Today" will be the theme of the event which will offer 22 different how-to-do-it work shops dealing with practical methods of developing programs and services for the aging. Those staffing the work shops already have experience in such efforts, and will seek to pass along this information to conference delegates who will come from many parts of the world.

Mrs. Burlingame's workshop will be concerned with developing activity programs for the aging in homes and institutions, camping programs, craft center activities, golden age clubs and hobby shows.

Mrs. Burlingame, who writes a weekly column for The Birmingham Eccentric, lives at 3891 Oak Hill.

Judith A. Smith Wed In Evening Service

In a double-ring ceremony by candlelight in the St. James Episcopal church, on Saturday evening, Judith A. Smith became the bride of Arthur Wilkinson Williams. The vows were heard at 7 p.m. by the Rev. Harold E. Towne before 200 guests.

The bride's gown of waltz length Italian silk was fashioned with a round neckline of appliqued lace. Judith's elbow length veil was held in place by a pearl-trimmed band. Cornflowers formed the center of the bridal bouquet.

The bride is the daughter of Lester L. Smith, 17800 Lackingham, and the late Mrs. Smith. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Williams, of 511 Merrill.

HONOR ATTENDANT was Mrs. Sherrill W. Weiss of Chicago who wore a coral gown fashioned with a center panel of pleats. Her headpiece was of daisies and she carried a corsage bouquet with a centerpiece of white and coral daisies.

Bridesmaids were Mary Louise Smith, the bride's sister, and Joan DeRose of Berkeley. They wore periwinkle blue gowns of the same style as the maid of honor. Their headpieces were formed of daisies. Cornflowers and white daisies centered their bouquets of coral daisies.

The groom's best man was Hugh E. Morrow. Seating the guests were the groom's brother, Charles Williams of Wayne, and Arnold E. Weiss of Chicago.

THE GROOM'S MOTHER wore a navy blue dress. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Following an exception held in the church, the couple left for a wedding trip to Northern Michigan.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Williams chose a two piece cotton dress with a fitted top and pleated skirt.

ON THEIR RETURN at the end of June, the couple plan to make their home in Warren, Michigan.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Sands of Uniontown, Pennsylvania, Mr. and Mrs. David Patterson of East McKeesport, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Roland Tarkman of Spokane, Washington, Francis and Paul Sasse, and Mr. and Mrs. George Mueller of Ames, Iowa.
