Nancy Henning Married In Presbyterian Rites

In a double-ring ceremony at the First Presbyterian church on Saturday afternoon, Nancy Lee Henning became the bride of Richard Arlen Lott. The vows were heard at 2:50 p.m. by the Rev. W. Glen Harris.

The bridal gown of chastity lace was accented by an empire bodice, scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves. Panels of taffeta were inset in the waist length skirt. A small crown edged in seed pearls and sequins held in place her fingertip veil of sheer illusion. She carried roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Nancy Lee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Henning of Hermitia. Richard's parents are the Gordon R. Lotts of Hillsdale.

PRECEDING her sister down the aisle was Linda Henning as maid of honor. Karen Lott of Hillsdale and Marlene Fenske of Chicago were bridesmaids.

All attendants wore seafoam

Zonta Members
Sending 2 Girls
To Camp Oakland

Birmingham - Bloomfield Hills Zonta club members have voted to help outfit two girls with proper clothing and sponsor them for a camping period at Camp Oakland this summer.

Meeting last week at the home of Mrs. Ewald Schaefer, Milford, the group also voted to sponsor the sale of 300 tickets for the Aug. 24 performance of "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" at Will-o'-Wisp.

Mrs. Helen Williams, book store owner and children's library consultant for the Michigan Education association, and contributor to the M.E.A. official journal through her column, "The Incessant Tramp!" spoke on books.

IN INTRODUCING herself, Mrs. Williams said she thought she had probably formed the "youngest" literary society, when at the age of eight, she gathered a group of young friends for book-club study.

"I've been reading and working with books ever since," she said. "I guess I'm a living example of the old American couplet which said, 'My book and heart shall never part.'"

She sketched the history of books from the days when many families owned only one, the Bible, pointing out how more production of books has enriched the lives of millions.

"BOOKS," she declared, "are symbols of freedom because they make men think. This is probably why dictators set about destroying books as rapidly as possible. Thinking is something they do not want their people to do."

In conclusion, Mrs. Williams read several excerpts from books dealing with folktales of the Greek section, pointing up their simpleity and always young, always-new outlooks.
