

John Burton Takes Bride, College Degree, Commission

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Burton are in Quantico, Va., where the bridegroom reported for Marine duty following their honeymoon, which included commencement exercises at Colgate university.

The Burtons spoke their wedding vows at Christ church, West Englewood, New Jersey on June 6 and after a week's trip to the White Mountains, returned on June 13 to Hamilton, N. Y., for Mr. Burton's degree from Colgate. He also received his second lieutenant then. A Baldwin High school graduate here, he is the son of Mrs. W. A. Ketsch of West Maple and John S. Burton of Jacksonville, Fla.

HIS BRIDE is the former Lois Patricia Rapp, daughter of Mrs. Otto Rapp of Teaneck, N. J. As her father gave her in marriage, she wore a pure silk gown with a fitted bodice trimmed with antique lace and a cathedral train. A sequined cloche held her fingertip.

BURTON ATTENDED Trinity college before going to Colgate where he is a member of Alpha Tau Omega. A physical education major, he belonged to the football team.

The couple plans to live in Birmingham after his three years in Marine service.

Brookside Students On Tour

Birmingham's suburbs are far reaching. In fact they go 'way down to Luray, Va., this week, so the Brookside elementary school students may be "seen".

Under the watchful eye of Wallace Cripps a group of 17 are on an extended tour of eastern points of interest, taking 11 days for their travels.

At Luray they visited the famed caverns and in typical tourist fashion, posed for their picture among the huge stalactites and stalagmites which have brought additional fame to the beautiful Shenandoah Valley.

After surfacing again the group had Washington, Gettysburg, Philadelphia, New York, Niagara Falls, Watkins Glenn, N. Y., and Akron on the "must see" list.

Coyle Fishers Ask 40 to 3-Feature Anniversary Fete

Marking their 35th wedding anniversary, the Coyle R. Fishers last weekend had 40 guests to cocktail tails at their Derby road home, dinner at the Birmingham Community house and a garden party on their garden's terrace.

From garden lights the Fishers brought from New Orleans after a three-week trip to Louisiana and Mississippi several weeks ago, were garden and patio decor. Japanese lanterns and individual fans and lanterns were other New Orleans items used.

Music for the garden event was provided by the five members with whom Fisher plays regularly in home music sessions. Roses and delphinium were in full bloom.

Among guests were Grand Rapids residents Mr. and Mrs. Payne Vincent, formerly of Detroit, and their daughter Mrs. Art Detrosak and her husband.

Talk of College Plans

Plans for next fall, when both Megan Butler and her houseguest, Sandra Bonjean, will be going to colleges in Jacksonville, Ill., were discussed during Sandra's six-day stay that ended Sunday. Sandra, a high school friend from the time when Megan and her parents, the R. H. Butlers of 372 Harmon lived in Jacksonville, visited here right after graduation as salutatorian in her hometown. She will be going to Illinois college, and Megan, who was editor of the Piper yearbook when she graduated this month from Birmingham high school, will go to the MacMurray college.
