

By VIRGINIA COLE

Lawn and car-apron at the Richard Garlicks' Winn Lake road home was the scene recently of a lawn dinner-dance given by the Garlicks for their son, Ralph, and by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bremer, Oak Hill drive, for their daughter, Jo Beth.

Jo Beth and Ralph invited all their senior classmates of Bloomfield high school. Guests of honor were their class advisors, Elwin Murray and wife and Mrs. James Stalker and husband.

Class colors of red and white were carried out in every detail. Six long banquet tables with white cloths were centered with red roses and white dookie mock orange. Red and white roses bloomed along a long rail fence. The back of the white garage was strung with roof-toe round red and white streamers as back-drop for the juke box.

A BOWER OF red and white roses was arranged under the overhang of the garage roof. Red and white balloons topped the juke box near the large white cement drive-way apron used as dance floor.

Lined along the edge of the long driveway, around the drive-apron and bordering a large flower bed were Mexican fan-lights (paper bags of sand with a candle in the middle.) These, plus several lawn hurricane lamps gave the party area a soft glow of light.

GIANT SPARKLERS had been placed in the ground peeling out Class of '55. At 1:00 the sparklers were lighted. The 60 guests gathered around this clever display and sang their alma mater.
