Mary E. Wesley Jack C. Souder

Bushnell Congregational church in Detroit was the scene of the nuptial vows of Mary E. Wesley and Jack C. Souder Saturday afternoon. The Rev. John S. Forsyth officiated at the 4 p.m. ceremony.

The bride's cousin, Charles Treat, gave her in marriage. Mary is the daughter of Mrs. David A. Wesley of Devonshire road and the late Mr. Wesley. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Souder of Devonshire road.

Songs presented by the soloist, Sally Meyers, were "I Love Thee", "Through the Years", and "Oh, Promise Me".

THE BRIDAL GOWN of embroidered organdy was floor length and full-skirted with short sleeves and a V-shaped neckline. A matching embroidered organdy cap held her elbow length veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses, delphinium and stephanotis.

Barbara Wesley, the bride's sister, was her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Marguerita Bates, Anita Miller, and Eleanor Treat, a cousin.

ALL ATTENDANTS wore pink ballerina length embroidered organdy dresses with short sleeves, square necks and torso waistlines. The maid of honor wore a pink floral headpiece. The bridesmaids headpieces were blue delphinium. All carried bouquets of pink sweetheart roses, and blue and white delphinium.

Edwin Rosenthaler was the best man. Seating the guests were Richard Souder, the groom's cousin, Robert Collinson, and Robert Piper.

The bride's mother wore powder blue organza with pink accessories. The groom's mother wore iridescent lavender with powder blue accessories.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony. For traveling, the bride chose an avocado green print dress styled along princess

THE BRIDE IS A graduate of Albion college and received her M.A. at the University of Michigan. The groom is a graduate of the University of Michigan. The couple will make their home on north Clunberry in Birmingham.

Carolyn Daneke John Donovan

Carolyn Frances Daneke became the bride of John Patrick Donovan, Jr., in a double ring ceremony at St. Hugo of the Hills Saturday. The 10 a.m. service was performed by Father Francis Stack.

CAROLYN IS the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Daneke Sr., of Mohegan. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Donovan, Sr., of Dayton, Ohio.

The bridal gown was fashioned of white chantilly lace with a full skirt scalloped at the hemline and falling into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a headpiece of lace and seed pearls. The bride carried an arrangement of white orchids on her prayer book.

CAROL STAUB was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Marcella Dupius and Marilyn Mooney of Pleasant Ridge. All attendants were dressed in white organdy waltz length dresses with pale blue diamonds embroidered in silk thread. The dresses had scoop necklines, cap sleeves, and a wide blue satin sash, ending in a bustle-like bow at the back.

Blue eye veils matching the sash, completed the ensembles. All carried arrangements of pale pink carnations and American Beauty rosebuds.

JAMES V. COSIMATI of Columbus, Ohio was the best man. Ushers were John F. Daneke of Battle Creek and Richard J. Daneke of Bryan, Ohio, brothers of the bride, William Hallerman of Dayton, Ohio, and Armand Martino of Cleveland.

The bride's mother wore a white silk sheath dress printed in shades of yellow and gray with white accessories. Her corsage was green cymbidium orchids. The groom's mother wore a silk print costume suit in shades of pink and green with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink cymbidium orchids.

Following a breakfast reception at the Pine Lake Country club, the bridal couple motored to Cape Cod. For the trip, the bride wore a navy blue and white suit with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

They will make their home in Saginaw.

Charlotte Wiley Warren Lattof

In a candlelight service at Christ Church Cranbrook on Friday evening, Charlotte Elizabeth Wiley became the bride of Warren Harte Lattof. The Rev. Perry R. Williams performed the service at 8:30 p.m.

Charlotte is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stearns Wiley of Willets road. Warren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Lattof of Arlington Heights, Illinois.

THE BRIDAL GOWN of cream colored chiffon was fashioned with a v-shaped band of lace on the bodice. The rose point lace veil was a family heirloom.

Irene Lattof, the groom's sister, of Arlington Heights, was the maid of honor. She wore a bouffant dress of red and white dotted swiss trimmed with a narrow red velvet sash. White carnations formed her bouquet.

THE OTHER attendants were DeRosset Morrissey, a Wellesley classmate of the bride from Rye, N.Y., Mrs. James Truettner of Mt. Vernon, Ill., Mrs. William Gibb III, a former Birmingham resident now living at Fort Devens, Mass., and Mary Blake. The bridesmaids wore dresses styled like the maid of honor's, but their bouquets were of red and white carnations.

LITTLE SUSIE Hitchcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Hitchcock of Ann Arbor, was the flower girl. Robert Davenport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murl Davenport of Birmingham, was the ring bearer.

Edward Johnson of Savannah, Georgia, was the best man. Seating the guests were Bruce Collard of Arlington Heights, Robert Dettmer, Karl Reuther, Robert Biehl, and Michael Tyne, all classmates of the bridegroom at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A RECEPTION AT the Orchard Lake Country club followed the ceremony. For traveling the bride chose a navy and white linen suit with white accessories.

After their wedding trip the couple will make their home in Arlington Heights, Ill.

Among the out of town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Bright of Rome, N. Y.

Patricia O'Connor Edward Jarnac

Patricia O'Connor and Edward W. Jarnac were united in marriage with an exchange of rings and vows at Duns Scotus Saturday. The ceremony was performed by Father Keating of St. Bede's parish at 11 a.m. before 300 wedding guests.

THE BRIDE IS the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. I. L. O'Connor of Goldengate drive in Lathrup. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Jarnac of Ferndale.

Patricia's gown of Italian silk had long, tapered sleeves and a fitted bodice. The full gathered skirt fell from a deep waistline and fell into a chapel train. The neckline of imported chantilly lace was off the shoulder. Her veil of silk illusion was held in place by a fitted pill box of Italian silk, edged in pearls.

Maid of honor was Mary Doyle. Bridesmaids were Mrs. P. A. Blakley of Chicago, Carol McCabe, and Shirley Jarnac, sister of the bridegroom.

THE ATTENDANTS wore full-skirted, waltz length gowns of heavenly blue crystalette fashioned with a long fitted torso swept behind into a bow. Stole jackets were worn over the strapless gowns. Their flowered headpieces were pill box shaped.

The groom chose William O'Connor of Toronto as his best man. Seating the guests were J. MacKinnion, R. Farington, and E. Piock.

The mothers of the bridal couple wore identical dresses of chantilly lace covered by finger length shantung duster coats. They wore small white orchids.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

If You Can't Lick 'em—Join 'em

Just back from visiting with my daughter's family—and playing Grandpop to two of the cutest kids you ever saw. While there I picked up a couple of new ideas on child raising:

If your child's learning to use a pen, provide an old fountain pen—filled with bluing. Looks and writes like ink, but won't stain clothes or furniture.

Maybe you have a boy, like my grandson, who thinks he's too old for a bib—but isn't. A big cowboy bandana works just as well, and looks he-man to boot.

From where I sit, getting along with children is like getting along with grownups—it requires an effort to see things from the other person's point of view. At any age, there's no accounting for tastes. Take my neighbor who keeps a parakeet and drinks hot coffee in the summertime. That seems strange to me . . . a man who's partial to hound dogs and a cooling glass of beer. But I'd be "childish" to say it was wrong.
