O'Neils, Former Residents Of Lathrup, Settle Here

Mrs. Edna G. O'Neil and her son, D'Arcy, have moved into their new home on Wing Lake road from an apartment in Birmingham where they lived temporarily after selling their home in Lathrup.

D'Arcy owns the O. and W. Tool Engineering co., in Farmington and is also a builder.

Some of the O'Neils' first house guests last week were Claire Kennedy, niece of Mrs. O'Neil, and four friends from Toronto, Canada, who stopped en route to California.

Mrs. O'Neil's daughter, Mrs. George Witherspoon, and her family will soon occupy their new home on Dakota circle.

Mr. and Mrs. James I. Tuckett settled in their new home on Wing Lake road, near Rosedale Park. They have three children, a daughter, Mrs. Fred W. B. Smith, Detroit; Mrs. D. A. Robinson, East Lansing and a son, Ronald, at home.

Following his return from Korea and November release from the army, Ronald enrolled at Hilldale college last February and has completed his sophomore year. Tuckett is a builder.

Luncheon guests of Mrs. Ralph Darling, Sunningdale, last Wednesday were Mrs. Rayburn Davis and Mrs. C. F. Arnold of Rosedale Park and Mrs. Helen Risk, Sheringham, sister of Mrs. Davis.

LAKE HOLIDAY

A cottage on Runyan lake was the vacation spot for a week recently for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Everson and their children, Eric and Chris, of Sheringham.

Boating, swimming and berry picking on the island were their main activities.

Skipper Gadd celebrated his seventh birthday last Friday with a party for 11 friends. A hot dog roast, birthday cake and ice cream, games and prizes were arranged by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gadd, Meadoway.

Mrs. Thomas Stewart of Sunningdale entertained 14 guests recently at a family dinner in honor of her mother's 60th birthday.

At the recent Mad Hatter's luncheon at the Forest Lake country club, Mrs. Stewart's guests

Girl Scout Troop Has Two-Day Trip

WING LAKE—Following their court of awards program, the 19 girls of Girl Scout Troop 415 of Wing Lake school celebrated with a two-day trip to Greenfield Village recently.

Under the direction of leaders Mrs. Allen Geidelman and Mrs. Edgar Debandt, Wing Lake Farms, the girls toured the village, went swimming, had dinner at Clinton Inn and stayed overnight.

The next day they went on a tour of Edison Institute.

According to the co-leaders, each girl in the troop received awards in good grooming, cooking and bird study.

School Playground Cleaned, Painted By Volunteer Squad

WING LAKE—The Wing Lake school summer playground was set off to a flying start last Saturday when a squad of parents and children joined forces for a paint-up, clean-up day.

Co-operating in the project, directed by William McGuire, playground director, were the William Springs, Walter Wengren, Edward Fuller, Charles Dunham, Fred Guilde, R. K. Williamses, John Schaeinger, Jr., Mrs. A. I. Duenges, Mrs. Mac Miller and Mrs. Darly Workman.

The women volunteers painted basketball backstops three swing sets, testers, slides and monkey bars.

Wengren and Springer built a large sandbox, Harry Aten built a sports equipment box and Fuller and Schaeinger made a jump pit. Dunham operated a tractor donated by Sam Reeves and graded the baseball area.

We Heard It Said By:

MRS. DOROTHY WROBLEWSKI, 2846 Sunset, Lathrup: "I feel that your paper adheres to a high standard and it is a pleasure to read it. I find it very newsy for all community activities and you have an abundance of local advertisers for shopping information as I have long since ceased to commute to Detroit for my needs. The garden articles are also very helpful. With The Eccentric and the Christian Science Monitor, there is no need for the Detroit papers which seems to be allotting more and more space to the unpleasant things to which in comparison, reading The Eccentric and Monitor is like a breath of fresh air."
