First Graders Ride Train On PTA Sponsored Project

"All my life," said pensive John Charles Simick, 6, "I have wanted to take a real train ride, and now I'm going to."

John was talking about the PTA-sponsored train ride, the first graders of Lathrup school will take this week.

Traveling by bus, the children will journey to Plymouth where they will board an inbound train for Michigan Central station.

While there has hurried to catch up with them, the classes will inspect a train in the station, from engine to kitchen.

Teachers accompanying the groups are Mrs. Edna Rex and Miss Diane Spiller.

The Lathrup PTA recreational program for children has provided suitable entertainment for every grade during the past school year.

Mrs. Katherine McLean, principal of Lathrup school reports the purchase this week of an antique projector, costing about $270 and

VISIT CITY COUNCIL

When the Lathrup City Council met Monday, June 6, there was an undertaking for all officials present, members of P. A. Basile's 7th grade class at Lathrup school. Acquiring a lot of first-hand information on city management, the pupils did a little legislating on their own when they officially proclaimed June 11 as Davy Crockett day.

Acting as council members were Bob Knighton, mayor; Diane Kurup, mayor pro-tem; Kay Plumtree, Janice Christensen, and Karen Young, Clerk-treasurer was Susan Stokfay, and court clerk was Janette Galbraith.

Mickey LaVigne, Mary, Lou Hines, and David Van Meer were present as the police force, with Jim Pylkas as judge and Andy Billewsky as city administrator.

Carol and Larry Fishbaler will take part in the Detroit Conservatory of Music dance recital at the Institute of Arts on June 10. Larry will perform a soft shoe character dance solo, and Carol, who is scheduled for solo, will later join her brother in a fast tap number.

CAMPFIRE CAPERS
No painter or author could ever reproduce in picture or word the spirit of a link that sweeps across a 13-year-old Girl Scout's face as the entire dinner she is mixing slides up-side down onto the sandy floor.

Luckily that turned out to be the only near-calamity on Troop 105's weekend campout.

Blissfully unaware of storm warnings and snug at the foot of a steep hill at Camp Nartin, the 11 girls and four leaders went ahead with their nature treasure hunt and campfire capers.

Cooking on a stubborn wood stove, or getting well staked over a blazing campfire presented few problems to Joann Viole, Kay Plumtree, Barbara Craig, Mary Lou Hines, Spidy McCall, Jane Anderson, Marie Ellen Goddard, Elaine Timmsay, Pat Isaacson, Jo Anne Myska, or Nancy Jo Gulderson.

Accompanying the girls were Mrs. T. C. Galbo, Mrs. C. Gildersleeve, Mrs. R. M. Ewart and Mrs. V. A. Zattel who found that bedrolls and sleeping bags aren't as comfortable as experienced campers would have one believe.

Mr. and Mrs. George Casper, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lenz and their son, Ricky, spent Memorial day weekend at Cedar Rest resort on Lake Charlevoix. While the men fished, the women and Ricky played shuffleboard and relaxed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Low, also former horticulturists, are living at 16427 Weathersby. Both of the Lows are graduates of the University of Michigan and Low is a member of the board of governors of the University of Michigan club of Detroit.

Their favorite pastime is playing bridge. Low is with the Ford Motor company.

MOVE FROM DETROIT
Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Zimmerman are looking forward to a quiet restful summer in their new home at 15031 Lauderdale, after moving here from Detroit.

Zimmerman's hobby is flower gardening, while Mrs. Zimmerman's interest is music. She belongs to the Highland Park Music club.

Mrs. Zimmerman's son, Larry Brown, who works with the state insurance department in Lansing, spends his weekends at home.

Zimmerman is with the Frederick B. Stevens company.

Coming here from Snyder, N. Y., a suburb of Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Foerster are now living at 148 Southfield road.

The Foersters have two sons, John, 16, and James, 10. John will be here the end of June, after combined business with pleasure when they took a trip to Iowa recently. O'Heara's work finished, the couple celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary while visiting an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Boushberg.
