

In Honor Fraternity

Wayne University student Victor Lavettson, 10220 Amberst, was recently initiated into the University's honorary business administration fraternity, Beta Gamma.

THE HULA DANCERS Joan Pape, Barbara Schulte, Diana Prainin, Laureen Pinkerman and Joanna Psenka are only one of the many acts presented Friday when Vaughan school held its annual spring festival for parents and friends. Other highlights were the presentation of Queen Susan Chatterton and her Court, dramatization of stories and nursery rhymes, singing games, dances, choral numbers and the May Pole. The various acts were presented in the festive air. One group of 30 youngsters wore old-fashioned costumes for their folk dance, with boys' shirts matching the materials of their partners' dresses. New KST officers are John Appleford, president; Don Haugh, vice president; Bob Hohmeyer, treasurer and parliamentarian; Mike O'Hara, corresponding secretary; Gordon Degener, recording secretary; and Dick Phillips, sergeant-at-arms.

Plans are in the making for Tri-A day at Reunion Park where members and their dates will swim and have a picnic supper. Later couples will go to Wynifred Wagner's home to dance to a three piece combo. Bob Bette is back from Florida. Among those at the Indianapolis 500 mile race were Ed Gierok, Ralph Nechman, Ann Bee and Hugh Wilkoff.

Betty Quillian and Don McNeal entertained at parties after the J-Hop.

ALUMNI AT the J-Hop were Carol Klein, Terry Laundry, and George Stinnett.

Emerald Key entertained the girls' social clubs with a tea at Dot Green's home.

Metropolitan beach was enjoyed by CTA club last Saturday with a date party that night. First the couples went to Penny Pierce's for dinner, then to the Walled Lake ballroom for dancing. After a full day the girls returned to Lee Carke's for a slumber party.

Newly elected officers of Tri-A are Ann Gardner, president; Julie Stubbs, vice president; Maria Kordenbach, treasurer; Ruth Heller and Betty Barnard, sergeant-at-arms; Betty Milligan, recording secretary; Patty Harmon, corresponding secretary; and Wynifred Wagner, historian.

MEMBERS OF Tri-A are planning their annual Tri-A Day. Girls and their dates will go to the Women's City club for dinner and dancing.

Hawaii was the theme of Lynn Granger's recent party where guests went swimming and dined carously for a potluck supper.

National Honor society is planning a picnic at Orchard Lake country club soon. Members will receive NHS jewelry then.

Susan House and Sandra Overstreet of the University of Michigan recently.

Helen Black is planning a tea for senior girls.

Adams Forms Drama Club

By ALICE E. MORGAN

Organized last March, Adams junior high-school Parodi club is presenting its first stage production this week with its "On the Air", a radio skit.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Geraldine Rice, faculty sponsor, school students have prepared sets, made programs, and handled directional duties. The production is scheduled for 8 p.m., June 9.

"The group was formed," Mrs. Rice said, "to further character and personality development among the children and direct their energies into socially acceptable channels."

"In the group we are able to assign responsibilities that will challenge them. It will encourage leadership, their attempts to be creative and resourceful and give them a chance at some wholesome public recognition."

IN ADDITION, their work in Parodi will help prepare them for high school activities, especially with Proseminar. They will have had the chance at gaining some experience in the field before they are faced with the larger audiences of high school dramas.

"Membership is open to any boy or girl maintaining passing average and reasonable standards of school citizenship. Membership is a reward rather than an opportunity to bypass other important phases of school life."

"We selected the name from the old Greek theater, where the parodi were the doorways to the proscenium. We hope our group will be the doorway through which these children will pass to greater happiness, peace and achievement."

HS Cicero Club
Elects New Slate

A recent picnic, formerly Newcomers' club, recently elected two junior members to pilot activities for next year.

Retiring president Jim Gillen turned the gavel over to Don Laird. Katie Borge will be secretary-treasurer.

The club's main function is to acquaint new students with the school and its various activities.

Why We Urge All
To Consult Their Doctor . . .

Frequently a patron is counseled to see his Doctor instead of purchasing some medicine he requests. This policy is really a kindness, and we here repeat this counsel.

Consult your Doctor when sick. If medicines are needed, he will prescribe the proper medicine and the correct dosage. This is always the right course for your better health.
