The grass fire season is with us the balmy weather of last weekend luring householders out into the open. The Franklin Volunteer Fire department responded to a grass fire call last Saturday on Franklin park drive and again on Sunday, in the southern section of Woodcrest.

Permits are required by state law before open fires may be started and it is unlikely any will be issued during the windy days in March, according to Chief Bill Jones. Fines can be levied on anyone who starts open fires without permission and Jones advises residents to play safe. Chief Jones will issue permits when weather conditions warrant.
