MRS. ROBERT SWIFT MODELS HAT

Childhood Hobby of Making Hats Becomes Woman's Top Activity

By VIRGINIA DETWILER

An engrossing hobby is just what every woman needs, in the opinion of Mrs. Joseph Cucchi, of Devonshire road, Beverly Hills.

No more convincing proof of this could be found than Mrs. Cucchi herself, who since early girlhood has had a boundless enthusiasm and considerable talent for making hats.

Basic training for Mrs. Cucchi's hobby started when, as a small girl, she learned to wire ribbons and make hat bands under the tutelage of her grandmother, one of Detroit's foremost millinery designers of the day.

Her interest in millinery continued throughout her early married life, and now, with her two daughters grown and married, she has returned to it with renewed enthusiasm.

And Community House classes have made her talents well known in the Birmingham area.

With a friend, Mrs. Robert Swift, of Huntington Woods, who acts as her model, she has appeared before many clubs and societies in highly acclaimed "hat clinics."

In these, she continually stresses the advisability of adapting current fashion trends to individual needs, instead of blindly following fashion.

FOR WOMEN WITH small children, Mrs. Cucchi has a special word of advice: "Be, all means," she says, "a

Hunting Hidden Home Ec Degrees

Home economists with their degrees buried under stacks of diapers or teen-agers' record albums are the subject who Mrs. William McCracker of Meadowlark and a group of Greater Detroit women are seeking.

Mrs. McCracker, a Southfield Township resident, is part of a telephone committee offering information to such women who have turned from professions to home-making.

They are members of Home Economists in Homemaking, which will meet March 30 at 8 p.m. in the Gold room of Wayne University's student center. Evening's talk is on millinery and new ways of trimming hats.

Anyone interested in this and future meetings may call Mrs. McCracker.

Yarnalls Travel, Son Wins Honors

Word has reached here that Stephen Yarnall, has attained the Amherst college dean's list, although the news has been relayed to his parents, the Thomas Yarnalls, who are vacationing in Pompano Beach, Fla. The Yarnalls, who live on Suffield, left March 8 for a month's Southland stay. The dean's list honors students for both scholastic and extra-curricular activities at Amherst.

WHEREVER HER HATS were seen, they brought forth favorable comment from friends, and on several occasions from designers, who urged her to go into the millinery business.

"But, if I should make a real business of hats, it would become a burden, and I wouldn't enjoy it," she says. "This way, there is no working under pressure, and I love it!"

WHEREVER HER HATS were seen, they brought forth favorable comment from friends, and on several occasions from designers, who urged her to go into the millinery business.

3 Marygroves Aid Open House

Taking part in Marygroves college junior and senior open house are Patricia Daley, Patricia Ward and Armine Arzoumanian, all of Birmingham.

The open house is Sunday afternoon, when the program at 2:30 p.m. will give parents chance to meet the faculty, visit classrooms and see new equipment and facilities at the school.

After a tour of the campus, guests will have buffet supper in Madame Cadillac hall, where members of the two classes will provide varied entertainment.

Soroptimist Dinner Guest ag. Husband

Birmingham Soroptimist club will meet at the Toast of Mrs. Charles Wooster on Southfield at 6:30 p.m. today, for dinner. Their husbands will be guests.

Mrs. Grace Kelly of the Travel Bureau will show a travel film.

Mrs. Jessie Knickerbocker

Widow grateful she doesn't have to lose home!

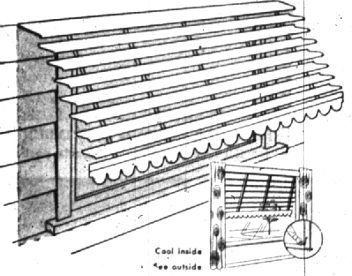

"I'd never been able to keep my home and still pay for all the hospital and doctor care I've needed, too," says Mrs. Knickerbocker, of Highland Park, Mich. "That's why I thank my lucky stars I've got hospital bill protection that pays off in arrears... for example, rather than a fixed amount of money to pay toward that bed, the way other plans give you. I like the service way... the Blue Cross way! Just recently, my Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered $624 worth of hospital services I needed, leaving only $8 that I had to pay out of my own pocket. And my Blue Shield protection paid all but $23 of my doctor bill!"

There's a 1 in 3 chance that your family will have an unexpected hospital bill within a year! Why risk your home, your life's savings... when for very little cost, you can have the wonderful protection that only Michigan's Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plans give you.

Find out about low-cost group coverage for your family. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Today, call or write: Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Mr. Gordon Cox, Hurst Center, 1058 W. Huron Street, Pontiac, Michigan.
