BACK TO WINTER

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beukem, their daughter, Linda, and Mrs. Beukem's mother, Mrs. George Schermerhorn returned last Saturday after two weeks in Florida and were shocked to be greeted by a true Michigan March blizzard. They stayed in Hollywood, at the Beach-Crest apartments, and spent most of their time on the beach.

Roxy Derge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Derge, Meadowway, was eight on March 25. For her family birthday dinner, the biggest red tomato her mother could find, it glowed in the middle of the family's Happy Birthday cake plate, complete with one candle. Roxy was thrilled and had only one regret, the tomato wasn't big enough to hold eight candles.

The Derge family gathered around the birthday board again on March 30 to celebrate Peter's fourth birthday. The Happy Birthday luncheon and bridge, Spring again, but this time held a traditional birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bus, Worthington road, returned Saturday from two weeks in the south. They spent a few days exploring the old section of New Orleans, then motored to Biloxi, Miss., where they found the Azalea trail display.

They visited the Bellingrath Gardens at Mobile, Ala. and then went to Natchez, Miss. for an artillerium pilgrimage to old southern plantations. Finally, back to New Orleans, they visited the Charles Holdworths, formerly of Birmingham. While in Biloxi, they went deep-sea fishing in the Gulf but reported no luck. The golf was very rough 14 miles out and by the time the expedition was over, Mrs. Bus decided, she says, that it's terra firma hereafter for her.
