SUNDAY SERMON TOPICS

SUNDAY, APRIL 3

Congregational

"Of Cheers and Jeers" is the sermon topic selected by the Rev. Robert D. Dewey for the 11 a.m. service on Palm Sunday.

Northminster

Services are being held at 10:30 a.m., at Poppleton school, when the Rev. Mackay Taylor has as his topic, "The Dilemma's Horns". His text is from Mark 11:9, "And they that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord!"

Embury Methodist

For the first time, duplicate services will be held here on Palm Sunday. The Rev. Reginald Becker will speak on "Blessed Be the Kingdom" at 9:30 and 11 a.m., taking his text from Mark 11:10, "Blessed be the kingdom of our father David, that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest." Baptism and the reception of the young people's class will be noted.

Unity Center

"That My Joy May Be in You" has been selected by Frank Glabach, leader, for the service to be held in the Center's reading room, Birmingham Theater building.

Christian Science

How spiritual understanding of God brings freedom from the futility of materialism will be brought out in the sermon, "Unreality". The text chosen is from Jeremiah 4:14, "O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?"

First Methodist

Speaking at both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services, the Rev. Arnold F. Runkel, D.D., will have for his subject, "An Unkingly King".

Kirk-in-the-Hills

Continuing his series of six sermons on the Passion and Resurrection, the Rev. Harold C. DeWitt, D.D., will speak on "If Thou Hadst Been."

First Baptist

"In Trusting" is the Palm Sunday subject of the Rev. Emil Koviz as he preaches another in his sermon series on "Christ Our Pilot", during the 11 a.m. service. The evening program will be a concert of sacred music by the sanctuary choir.

YOUNG PEOPLE of the First Baptist church were busy Saturday as they sought "odd jobs" in their first Work Day for Christ observance. Rakes, shovels, hoes, cleaning materials—all became tools of the day as the youth group get under way. Here Jim Kennel, Faith Wells and Ron McCrumb stage an impromptu rehearsal of what the day held. The monies raised were channeled into mission work at home and abroad. (Eccentric Photo)

Future Programs Planned by Group

Future plans held the attention of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Altar society at their March 28 meeting.

Mrs. Allan T. Fredericks, president, reminded the group of the April 1-2 rummage sale under the chairmanship of Mrs. James O'Rourke.

Tickets for a "pink and play" week-long card game were distributed.

MEMBERS will entertain at cards in their homes, with programs scheduled throughout the entire week. Prizes will be awarded high scores at the end of the play.

With the increased membership, a discussion was held on Altar society guilds and their boundaries. Preliminary plans for the mother-daughter banquet, slated for May, and the annual fall "Festival for Things" were discussed.

Methodist Classes Occupy New Home

Another milestone was passed in the life of the First Methodist church Sunday morning when the first groups occupied quarters in the new educational unit.

The property, adjacent to the church site, was purchased several months ago and the house "reconstructed" to provide additional classroom facilities.

Junior department members occupied the new quarters, the first group to do so. Three other departments realized moves which afforded better teaching-learning opportunities, beneficial to both children and teachers.

The church reported that Sunday school attendance reached an all-time high of 820 that day.

Venture in Prayer Is Next WMU Topic

"A Venture in Prayer" will be the topic of Mrs. John Dinkelo's talk for members of the First Baptist church Women's Mission Union.

The program will start with white cross work at 10:30 a.m., business meeting and election at 11:30 and at 12:45 p.m., luncheon under the auspices of the Naomi circle.

Devotionals will be led by Mrs. John Aklerby.
