

BUD DAVIES WAS star of the "Disc Jockey Hop" staged by the Key Club of Southfield High school last Friday night.

Attends Conference

At a conference drawing 295 young people from Michigan to Upland, Ind., Mary Elkin, 19661 Middleburg road, was among those registered last weekend. The three-day meet was sponsored to present the challenges of the Christian faith for youth from 15 to 25. About 1500 were in the Taylor university campus at Upland for the event, which featured talks by leading pastors.

Cadet Comes Home

Several hundred young people attended the dance in the school gym where records provided decoration theme.

Seeburgers' Winter Holiday Covers Texas, New Orleans

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Seeburger and nine-year-old Russell, Jr., of Bellville avenue, have returned from their winter vacation, most of which they spent in Texas and Louisiana.

While in New Orleans, they took in the Mardi Gras and in Texas they toured the Kings ranch, the largest in the world, located in Kingsville. While visiting friends in Houston they were invited to attend a press party at which they met the famous Gene Autrey and Annie Oakley. Young Russell had the thrill of his life when he was photographed with Gene and Annie.

On the way home the Seeburgers stopped off in Mobile and Biloxi.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Marshall of Riverside drive chose a western trip for their vacation. They are dividing their time between Las Vegas, Phoenix and Los Angeles and at some of those places plan to join friends from back home.

dens put on a program with the theme of Knights of Old for an audience of 100. The Cubs had made their shields, breastplates and helmets out of cardboard, aluminum foil and paint and added swords and plumes to make their suits of armor complete.

They received some assistance at home on the construction of these articles, but a great deal of the work was done at den meetings. Their crowning achievement was a horse, which added considerably to their act. A mock jousting contest was enthusiastically received by the audience.

Don G put on a puppet show entitled "Overnight Hike with Don G." The principal actors in this play were David Campbell, Frank Green, Gary Ashcraft, Ricky Olsen, John Rhoton and Allen Grandner. Both acting and sound effects were cleverly done and the boys covered themselves with glory in this production.

Boys receiving their wolf badges this month are Jimmy Duhn, Russell Seeburger, John Timan, Gary Smith, Michael Dunn, Russell Danielson, Peter Decker, Paul Ruby, James Kokones, and Douglas Leupen.

Those receiving Bear badges are Gary O'Toole and Ernest Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Ritze of 18146 Riverside have been living here just a month, having moved from west Detroit. Ritze is assistant district manager of Detroit Edison's Oakland district. They have two sons, Joe, 12 and Freddy, six. Joe attends Bartram High and Freddy goes to Beverly. The Ritzes are members of Strathmore Methodist church.
