A CAMERA club has been started at Barnum by Lawrence Graham, one of the art teachers. The club meets on Thursdays from 3:00 to 3:30, and is open to both seventh and eighth graders.

THE EIGHTH grade students at Barnum have begun planning their 9th grade schedules. Homeroom periods were lengthened so the teachers could help the students with any problems that came up. This plan will help the students understand their high school schedules better, and provide an opportunity to think in terms of planning for all four years.

On Monday, there was a three-way switch in some students' programs. The eighth grade students in science classes will begin classes in general language or study hall while the students now in general language will have science or study hall, and the students that have had study hall until now will begin science or general language.

ART STUDENTS are looking forward to new, modern fixtures.
