

Beaumont's Women Meet

Work done by volunteers at William Beaumont Hospital was demonstrated at the women held their first annual meeting on a Monday morning last week. Mrs. Louis G. Erb conducted the meeting of the Women's Service committee in the hospital volunteers meeting room, following coffee in the cafeteria. Mrs. Erb, of Huntington Woods, heads a staff of officers many of whom are from Birmingham.

Mrs. Edward Proctor, is first vice-president, Mrs. Donald Plankel, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edmund LeMay, record-keeping secretary, Mrs. George Trumbull, parliamentarian, and Mrs. L. J. Colombo, publicity chairman.

ONLY THE SECOND general meeting of the new group, the most featured demonstrations of how some 40 members sort mail and distribute books each morning from a cart, how others fold and pack bandages for the sterilizer, and how bibs and quilts are sewn.

Edwin A. Tomlinson, Bloomfield Hills resident who is president of the hospital's board of trustees, and Owen Pinkerman, hospital director, spoke.

JOAN GASSAWAY

freshmen women's honor society and Lambda chapter of Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary college bandwomen's society.

Joan ranks second in freshman class and is among the top eight who have completed the first three years in the university of Michigan school of music.

In September, she will become a resident of Martha Cook, having been chosen for her high scholastic ability, qualities of leadership and character.

JOAN WAS co-student of the June 1954 class from Birmingham high school and is the only one entering U-M last fall to earn an average of 3.5 or better.

She was one of the winners of the U of M regents' alumni scholarship honor awards, and was a member of the junior and senior high school bands, under the direction of Arnold Berndt, and as a junior was the soloist in their annual spring concert. That year she became a member of national honor society, Student Congress, Prosenium and other groups.

She played clarinet solo in the Detroit Women's symphony, under the direction of Victor Kolar, for three years, and has won many awards and scholarships for her musical ability.

MRS. JOHN F. DANKE, JR.

Beauty Baskets Deck Altar For Daneke-Kiblinger Rites

Beauty baskets of white gladiol decked the altar of St. Philip Catholic church, Battle Creek, when Janet Kay Kiblinger and John Frederic Daneke, Jr., exchanged rings and vows at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The Rev. James O'Meara officiated.

Janet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Franklin Kiblinger of Battle Creek. Mr. and Mrs. John F. Daneke of Molegan road is the bridegroom's parents.

The bridal gown of lace and nylon tulle over satin, was styled with a fitted bodice of lace, long sleeves and scoop neckline finished in sequins and trimmed in sequins and seed pearls. The full skirt of lace over a panel of pleated tulle extended into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of corresponding seed pearls.

A MINT green French organza gown was worn by the groom's sister, Carolyn F. Henke, who was maid of honor. The cutaway neckline was fashioned with bows at the shoulder line and the full ballerina skirt fell from the fitted torso waist-line. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink operations.

Bridesmaids wore Mary Ellis and Margaret Ellis, cousins of the bride, in pink dresses identical to the honor attendant's. Little Nancy Ellis was flower girl in white organza.

Richard J. Daneke was his brother's best man. Cousins were John R. Ottman, Harold A. Welch, Jr., Capt. John J. Buckley, Jr., and Joseph B. Deiman, Jr.

MRS. Kiblinger chose an aqua lace jacket dress and Mrs. Daneke wore French blue taffeta.

Following the breakfast and reception in the Hart hotel, Battle Creek, the couple left for a wedding trip through Canada and New York state. For traveling Janet wore a redingote costume of saucy beige and white.

The newlyweds will make their home at 248 Garfield, Battle Creek.

Schaefer Show Set For Sunday, 1 to 6
