

Foreign Student Funds Permit Second Visitor

BY BARB SHINNICK

Due to tremendous response by the students and organizations of Birmingham high school to the need for money to bring a foreign student here, enough money was raised to bring two students instead of one.

Margaret Jennifer Davis, Ranfurly, New Zealand, first of the two foreign students planned for, will live with the Lawton Tabor family at 18290 Devonshire.

She has many hobbies, among them reading, stamp collecting, photography and music. Margaret plays the piano and steel guitar.

An avid sports fan, she plays in many competitive sports including hockey, basketball, tennis and softball. She also finds time for horseback riding and ice skating.

When Margaret returns to New Zealand she plans to attend college and get her teaching degree.

Eckhard Dorfman, a 16-year-old boy from Salzburg, Austria, will live at the home of Dr. Edwin Deer, 1082 Midland.

Eckhard's father is an architect in Vienna. Eckhard's interests are mathematics, geography, natural sciences and languages. His hobbies include music and photography.

All sports interest the youth but he especially enjoys swimming, basketball and skiing.

Returning to Austria, Eckhard plans to continue his education and then go into the field of world trade.

Both students will arrive in New York City the week of Aug. 26. After spending a short time in New York, they will come to Birmingham and their new families.

VETERAN CAMERAMAN at 13, Tom Schaffer, a Barnum junior high school student, hopes to make a career of news photography. Tom has been at the work for three years, taking over where his father, E. F. Schaffer, 603 Suffield, has left off. He has taken a number of pictures in his school and plans many, many more, especially in sports. Tom has two cameras and does all his own developing and printing. He expects to get a number of still shots and do some movie work this summer when he joins his father on a trip to a "fly-in" camp in the Canadian wilds. (Eccentric Photo)

Torry Youngsters Entertain Mothers

Mothers were honored last week at Torry school when four groups held special programs for them. Mrs. Betty Sumner's first grade made blue corsages which were presented to honored guests at a tea, with 22 of the 25 mothers attending.

Second graders prepared paper corsages and place cards for their mothers. The group presented original descriptions of the stock program of their class. They assisted in preparing the cakes which highlighted the refreshments.

IN THE THIRD grade, the refreshment feature was made by the children. Musical selections and the reading of original poems completed the program. Another second grade party consisted of written reports by the youngsters on "What We Have Learned This Year". Singing and dancing completed the entertainment.

Aquabelles Witness College Water Shows

Attending the Michigan State show were Grace Wagner, Mable Harabedian, Gail Christie, Mary Slater, Linda Robinson, Margaret Seyferth, Wendy Ross, Sue Tabor, Ann Spoelstra, Ginger Bakus, Molly Gloor, Helen Ross and Judy Fricker.

University of Michigan water ballet was seen by Rosalie Roe, Arlene Arlt, Sarah Hogan, Dorothy Rossman, Dolly DeJongh, Mary Low Crouch, Marie Jojnt, Paula Hughes, Gail Christie, Judy Austin, Sally Hanson, Judy Dordill, Ann Pope, Janet Fay, Marilyn Bishop, Jill Nethercot, Mary Lou Pomeroy, Dolores Schey, Kappy Paton, Carol Williams, Bev Tison, Betty Quilliam, Trudy McKeown, and Kay Mably.

Refreshments were additional highlights of this party.

'Ink Splash' Staff

Philip Brown and Marian Ulrich are the co-editors for the fifth edition of the "Ink Splash."

The associate editor is Beth Burroughs. Dorothy Nelson's and Rosemary Burgess's eighth grade classes are going to write the stories, publish the paper and distribute it for five cents each.
