

How often one may strive and strive to win the applause of others yet now and then perform something that one alone with one's conscience, who's applaud. Yet it's each of us deserving of self-appraisal, too?

Golfing Weekend Starting Today

Last Night's Dinner Is Forerunner

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK

With golfers arriving from every corner of the U.S. for the Forest Lake Country club's tourney, the five-day tournament opened last night at an evening dinner and program.

Trophies have arrived, the players and the host members of the club have had chances amply to get acquainted on the links and in the newly refurbished clubhouse, and the officials are waiting for play to start today.

Few strictly social events are planned in connection with the tourney, for the women golfers like practice, sleep and rest rather than partying during tourneys.

But there'll be plenty of activity today through Monday.

BUSIEST of the Forest Lake members has been William F. Newberry, chairman for the tournament, but in close second place are Mrs. Albert C. Yost, women golf chairman, and the Blaine E. Eynon. Eynon is president of the club.

Ticket sales are still going on, but expected attendance in the galleries as golfers round the greens is about three or four thousand according to Newberry. About 2000 books of tickets have been sold.

Club members hosted the tourney players at cocktails and dinner last night, and players glimpsed the shining silver pieces that amateurs will be seeking.

THE HUGE TROPHY pictured was chosen by Mrs. Yost, to be given to the winner of the amateur tourney. It was given by a member, Robert Green, of Turtle Lake Farms, that neighbors the club on Forest Lake.

Professionals are playing for money prizes.

The club house has a newly decorated mixed grill, and the women will have the women's locker room and colorful lounge, also newly done in a built-in section, at their disposal.

Women of the Forest Lake club will be still talking of the tournament when they meet on June 1 for their 11 o'clock brunch.

Mortgage Is Burned By Village Players

A "fire of great note" highlighted the annual meeting of the Village Players May 18, when William E. Kegel presided at the burning of the mortgage on their Chestnut street playhouse.

A "secondary" feature was the election in which F. C. Guest was named president and F. C. Moriarty, treasurer. Two-year terms as board members went to Miss Louise Hersey, Mrs. Stanley R. Hood and John Hall.

Big Splash Due Saturday as 3 Clubs Open Pools

Club-wise, Memorial Day week-end seems to have all the makings of a big splash as three pools are opened for the summer.

Birmingham country club opens for members May 28, although plans for a formal opening have a mid-June setting.

At Bloomfield Open Hunt club the pool will share honors with the official opening of the newly constructed tennis courts.

New, gaily colored chairs and umbrellas are on hand to be placed around the deck for the comfort of spectators.

An afternoon program of professional diving exhibitions and competitive events for adult and junior members is planned.

THE EVENING activities will get under way at 6 p.m. with cocktails, a buffet and dancing for adults.

Joseph N. Monaghan, swimming and tennis committee president, will have charge. Also serving are John R. Davis, BOH president, the Victor Armstrongs, Thomas H. Wagners, Arthur C. Butterbaughs, William E. Mackers, Bruce Campbells, Maynard Andrees and Robert Blythins.

At Oakland Hills country club the opening of the pool and scheduled golfing will launch a full schedule for the three-day week-end. Tennis, too, will have a role in the day's activities.

SATURDAY evening will be highlighted by a dinner dance with music by the Les Shaw orchestra.

Sunday's golf will be best 18, best 36, low gross and low net play for all classes. The day will be topped off with a hot and cold buffet dinner.

Torry Teachers' Tea

Mrs. Richard Featherstone and Mrs. J. Fred Harris will pour for the Torry PTA Teachers' Tea at 4 p.m., Friday. The tea is an annual event to which the mothers of all the children are invited.

New and Old Gardens Open For Garden Center Tour

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK

Contrasts in gardens with many surrounding homes that recall England's renaissance, and others providing setting for long, low ranch homes, will be shown in the Detroit Garden Center pilgrimage in the Bloomfield-Birmingham area.

Mrs. Richard English's home on Church road just beyond Christ Church Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills, is one of most traditional on the tour, which takes place June 11 and 12.

"You have to keep planning and planting," says the white-haired Mrs. English, "to be sure you have something in bloom from spring to fall." Tulips and lilacs such as shown in the photo are currently in full bloom in the upper garden near the old-English style home, and in the lower level, larger sector.

THERE'S JUST one mailbox out on Bennington road, where the John W. Shenefields have their white stone ranch home.

Other homes are in various stages of building in the new Rudgate subdivision, but the Shenefields have clustered blooms among their stoned-floor patio, geraniums in flower pots on the stone steps, and much greenery already thriving.

Other Bloomfield Hills gardens, for whom Mrs. E. Govan Hill is chairman, are those of the S. V. Nortons on Lane Pine, the Edward S. Wellocks on Kirkway, the Leasie Greens on Turtle Lake Farms, Square Lake road and the A. A. Clarks at Long Lake and Adams roads.

Have You Met

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice H. Baumann formerly of Oak Park have moved into their new home at 838 Norwich road? The Baummanns' children are eight-year-old Skipper and three-year-old Susie. Baumann attended the University of Washington in St. Louis and his hobby is collecting old coins. Mrs. Baumann graduated from the Walsh Institute and her hobby is sewing. Baumann is an accountant for the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company.

First Piano Recital Slated June 5 for 12-Year-Old

By ALICE E. MORGAN

One of the big days in her life will come Sunday, June 5, for Wendy Sanderson, 12, when she is introduced in her own piano recital at the studio-home of Mrs. Dorothy Roosevelt on Greenwood.

A pupil of John H. Harrison, Wendy's 3:30 p.m. program will include numbers from the works of Bach, Mozart, Schubert, Debussy and Creative Piano.

Wendy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sanderson and attends Vaughan school.

She has been studying piano for a long time with one summer's interlude of studying harp.

"I LOVE it," she said, speaking of the harp, "but they cost an awful lot of money!"

For the past three years she has been enrolled at the National Music camp at Interlochen.

Wendy is not a slave to her music, spending the traditional long hours at the keyboard to the exclusion of everything else.

She is a riding pupil at Outland's and took part in their Saturday schooling show.

Asked about her future in the field of music, Wendy confided that she did not want to make it her career.

"I WANT to have a kennel," she said. "I haven't decided whether I'll raise collies, or springers, but I'm going to have a kennel."

The Sandersons have two dogs, springers, one of which is a bench show dog. Helping to care for him, train him and attend the area shows has given Wendy a pretty

She's quite level-headed about her music, saying, "I'll always have that and if other plans go wrong I can turn to it. Of course I'll always have the pleasure of being able to play when I want to and that will mean a lot as I get older."

Smith Continues Officers' Terms

Mrs. Richard C. Van Dusen will continue as president of the Birmingham unit of the Smith College club, following a meeting last Saturday at Mrs. James Lov's home. Mrs. George N. Hillinger will continue as secretary, Mrs. John L. Brown, Jr., will assume vice president's duties, and Elizabeth H. Smith will become treasurer.

Brownies Picnic

A picnic at Sprinfield park was last event for the Brownie Scout troop 344, which now is planning a trip to the Detroit Zoological park, this week, to round out their season's activities. The picnicers were led by Mrs. William Vogues and Mrs. George Knopf.

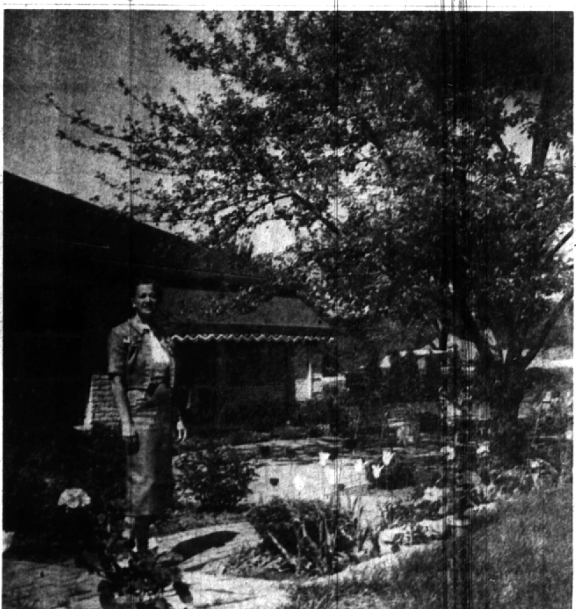

Birthdays, anniversaries, guests, births, parties are all news—all the society editor about them.
