300 Attend Ass'n Meeting, Elect 3 New Commissioners

About 300 villagers attended the 1955 annual meeting of The Bloomfield Village Protective Association on May 16, when three new commissioners were elected.

The newly elected officials are Arthur F. Brookman, 2429 Broadway, Lester V. Green, 724 Williamsburg and Barney D. Rannon, 729 Ardmore.

They will replace retiring commissioners C. B. Harmon, William H. Cartwright and Frederick Calombo, who have served for three years.

In addition to election of officers, the meeting, presided over by president Harmon, featured reports on area water supply and road maintenance. After the business session members of the Bloomfield Village PTA served refreshments.

Mrs. R. H. Bookmyer, Jr., of 710 Woodale road, New in Paris May 21, where she will meet her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gallagher. She will be in Europe about two weeks, spending most of her time in Paris, with a possible side trip to Brussels, and will return June 5.

NEW NEIGHBORS
Newcomers to the Village are Mr. and Mrs. Norval B. East, formerly of Highland Park who are now living at 219 South Glengary.

Mrs. East attended Kent State and Northwestern Universities, while East first attended Adelphi college where he studied pharmacy and later graduated from the Detroit College of Law.

East formerly owned drug stores in Highland Park and Detroit, and is now attorney for the Michigan Employment Security commission. The Easts attend the First Methodist church.
