

Birmingham Residents Start Summer Moves

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK

First view of Michigan's north country was given Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Richardson of Williamsburg recently, when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spencer hosted the couple at their Platte Lake cottage.

The Spencers, avid fans of the wilds of the wooded area near Traverse City, showed the Richardsons Sleeping Bear, the famed sand dune visible for miles out in Lake Michigan, and the long stretches of cherry orchards that were in bloom that weekend.

This weekend the Spencers will be taking their four children to the cottage—Sharon, Bobby, Billy and Jackie. And when school closes, Mrs. Spencer and the youngsters will be heading north for the summer of swimming, boating, picking and freezing of the seasonable fruits and vegetables, and scenic drives in the Spencer's new station wagon. Spencer, drives up weekends all summer to join the family.

"DON'T MOVE IF you don't have to," Mrs. William Hillers said breathlessly last weekend, as she faced the final day before the Heller family moved from Westwood to 3150 Broadway in Bloomfield Village.

The parents and their four youngsters, Ruth, Sue, Mary and Bill, are moving to a larger, but another Colonial style home. Another family moving is that of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Barton, who have still decorators active but are fairly settled in their new home at 700 Fairfax.

THE HARTONS and their two daughters, Brigette and Susan, lived formerly at 5555 Brookdale, Bloomfield Estates, but are finding their new two-story home allows less noise to carry from room to room than their former ranch style home.

The two daughters attend Sacred Heart convent and Barton operates a steel warehousing business in Ferndale.

MRS. T. B. Anderson has returned to her room, 1241 Club drive, Bloomfield township, after a Mother's Day visit at Northwestern university with her daughter, Alice Shaw.

Miss Shaw has received the highest grades in her sorority, Pi Phi, winning a plaque. Expecting to graduate in June, Miss Shaw plans to teach at Pittsfield, Mass. A graduate of Kingswood, she has studied for an A-B degree in speech.

NEWLYWEDS, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Fisher, are honeymooning in Hawaii following their marriage of May 14. They cruised aboard Matson lines luxury liner "SS Lurline" from San Francisco and will make their home at 803 Redding when they return. Fisher is treasurer of Fishb Industries, Inc.
