Broadway Shows, Auto Races Lure Residents for Holiday

Among those who will take advantage of the holiday weekend are the Waite-Stoddards of Golf View drive, who plan to spend three or four days in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoddard will celebrate their wedding anniversary with a round of Broadway shows.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sloan of Shawneeville will be at the Indianapolis races on Decoration day.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Gordon of Lahser road plan to spend the holiday weekend with a daughter in Belleville, N.J. While there the Gordons will attend the christening of their third grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald O'Toole spent three days last week in Toledo, Ohio, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Klein, formerly of Birmingham.

When a substitute failed to appear at Doris Naughton's bridge club Wednesday evening, Naughton obligingly filled in. He played slowly, the club members report.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Pisu entertained Jack Albate at a dinner on May 17. The Albates, Jack and Madejyn, now living in Altadena, Calif., were former neighbors of the Pisu on N. Miller way.

Michael Kelley Loviner, 2-month-old son of the C. J. Loviners of Pon Valley, was christened at St. Hugo of the Hills on May 15. Father Bagley from Columbus, Ohio, officiated at the ceremony. The godparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Scharfmaier of Dearborn. Weekend guests at the Loviner home were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Knecht, Jack Rosch, and Ruth Allen, all of Columbus.

The Pahlis, Helen and Roy, of Snowshoe circle are spending their weekends at Charlevoix, getting their cottage ready for the summer.

Welcome to Philip and Virginia Royer, 121 Long Pine road. Formerly of Huntington Woods, the Rogers have two children, Michael and Suzanne. Philip attended the University of Illinois and Michigan State college and is a member of Pine Lake Country club. Virginia is active with the Junior Symphony group.

A cocker, Taff, and a boxer, Browner, are the family pets. Philip is with the P. J. Roger Co.

Hello to Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carr of Maple road. Carr, a native of London, England, attended school in Toronto, Ont., and has been in this country since 1920.

Mrs. Carr, originally from Chicago, is active in garden club work and the Detroit Symphony association. Carr is with Continental Insurance.

Friday Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Sabourin of Golf View drive attended the performance of "Kismet" at the Shubert. The play, Mrs. Sabourin feels, has all the glamour and romance of "South Pacific."

Erwin Baumrucker and Robert Barlow, both of Birmingham, accompanied the Sabourins. Before the theater the group dined at the Revere club.

On May 21, Susan Fry represented her Vaughan school Spanish class at a poetry recital in McKinney Hall at Ypsilanti. Susan, a seventh grader, recited "Oasis" by Emanuel Machado, and was one of the youngest students participating.

Andrea Gallaudet, a group of students, sang "La Seine."

Did you know that W. Roy Akitt, Lone Pine Village, was the architect for the Holben amphitheater at the Detroit Zoological Park; and also for the children's zoo at Belle Isle?

Leigh Wilson of Kesthale road whose hobby is guns, has a fine collection.

Mrs. William Kelley of Ranch lane plays cribbage and plays well, with awards to prove it.

A sincere "thank you" to Fannie Aten whose talent, time and effort laid the groundwork for this column. It was Mrs. Aten's reports on the activities around here that gave us all an awareness of the community's interests and problems; and in an area hard pressed with growing pains, a better understanding of the word "neighbor."
