

Southfield Hi GAA Host to Conference

Southfield high school GAA will hold an Inter-Lakes conference today in the home economics room to discuss organization of inter-school competitive games for girls.

Redford high girls were invited to attend a Play-Day at Southfield recently. Participating in non-competitive sports the day was set up to promote friendship between the two schools.

SENIOR COUNSELOR Mary Lou Lake and 12 prospective University of Michigan students from Southfield high school have visited the U. of M. campus.

Glenn Schenals, Robert Hall, M. Van Amedy, Norman Olmsted and Glenn Levey attended a conference in Toledo recently. Sponsored by Toledo university the subject was the "Impending Shortage in Creative Manpower." Concerned with the shortages in manpower in research, science, engineering and teaching fields, the university brought these men together to try to find a solution to the problem.

Southfield High Plans Play, Band

Casting has been completed for the annual Southfield high school senior play to be presented May 20 and 21.

This year students will see "Agatha Christie's 'Ten Little Indians.'" The play will be directed by Mrs. H. T. Kruger of the high school English department.

The action is centered in a mysterious house in Devon, with odd assorted guests dropping off one by one as little Indian figures drop off a mantle, until the climactic conclusion.

A SPRING band concert will be held May 4 at Southfield high school, directed by James Burrows, and Richard Brown of the music department. Selections will be played by the elementary, intermediate and high school bands, including "Hallel Parhian," "Trausinfonia," "Barabach," two sketches for Band and a concert solo, "Beautiful Colorado," by Ken Berberich.

A comparatively new band, received 1st Division rating at the District band festival in Ypsilanti last fall, qualifying them to enter the state festival at the University of Michigan.

SOUTHFIELD high will be closed on May 15 to permit the coaching staff to attend the Schoolmasters' club program in Ann Arbor.

Tree Planting Time

Members of the Y's Men's club of the Birmingham YMCA will make their annual trek to Camp Ohlyssa, Saturday, to plant jack pine trees on the south slopes of Fish Lake. This is part of the re-forestation program of the camp and, some 5000 seedlings will be placed in the ground during the next three weeks. Chairman Robert Lota is hoping for a good showing of families to carry out this project.

Jr. Hi Students List Activities

Carolyn Chappell, Barnum eighth grader was runner-up in the district spelling bee, Friday, April 22 at Baldwin school. Carolyn spelled against Russell Scott from Big Beaver for a half hour. Russell also won last year. The winning word was "cowardice."

An art exhibit representing the work of Barnum Junior high school students is on display in the Hill building. There are drawing, painting, basketry, sculpturing and photography exhibits, under the supervision of Lillian Clawson and Lawrence Graham, art teachers.

TWO NEW tables have been added to the homemaking all-purpose room. All furnishings are maple with a chamisano finish. The tables arrived Monday, April 25.

Some of Meryl Smiley's fly tying club boys have already finished their first flies.

Smiley's eighth grade boys have started a new project, a center punch.

National Thespian Unit Formed Here

New charter members of National Thespian society were presented society seals and certificates in induction ceremony last week in the little theater.

The ceremony marked the start of Birmingham chapter, Troop 150, of the American-Gambian organization.

Members are selected on the basis of participation in dramatics and receive points for contributions.

Chapter officers elected at an earlier meeting are: Walt Herd, president; Tom Kegel, vice president; Beverly Harris, secretary; Susan McDonald, treasurer; and Barbara Hoover, scribe, group adviser; Angelo Angelocci.
