

Native Detroit Listed as Guest With Symphony

Seymour Lipkin, one of the foremost of the young pianists in the music world today, will be the soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Thursday, Nov. 17, at 8:30 p.m. in the Masonic auditorium. Valter Poole will conduct.

Lipkin will play the Ravel Concerto for Piano and Orchestra for Left Hand Alone.

Only 26 years of age, Lipkin is a native of Detroit and rated among the top keyboard artists of the American concert stage. A former child prodigy who started to play piano at age three and gave his first concert at four, Lipkin entered Philadelphia's famous Curtis Institute of Music at eleven.

Reservations for Lipkin's performance with the orchestra are available at the Symphony office, Masonic Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brewster with Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy W. Dahlberg will be among first nighters at the opening of the Detroit Grand Opera Association's performance of Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro."

The Robert Wardrops of Beach and will also join the many North Adams residents in attendance Tuesday night.
