Prior to their anniversary, Mrs. Gould notified some 150 friends and relatives all over the country of the coming event asking them to send a card on the date as a suprise card shower for her parents. There was a tremendous response, not only cards but many letters which her parents deeply appreciated.

WEEKEND GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. George Koehn, Cherokee, have been busy entertaining houseguests for the past several weeks. Two weeks ago, Mrs. Koehn's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gray and children, Susan and Tommy of Saginaw spent the weekend with them.

During their stay, they visited Willow Run airport where they met a plane bearing Mr. Koehn from Cleveland. This was a thrill for the children as they had never before seen a big airport. They also enjoyed the old cider mill in Franklin where Susan took notes to take back to her school.

This was also the time that Koehn brought home an eight-point buck from a week's hunting trip to One-Sided lake in Ontario.

Last weekend, they entertained Mr. and Mrs. Willard Stoney of Cleveland. In the interests of their guests' first visit to this area, they showed them Kirk-in-the-Hills, Cranbrook Science Institute, Northland and Birmingham.

This weekend, the Koehns will again have house guests for the Ohio-Michigan game at Ann Arbor on Saturday. They will be Mr. and Mrs. Norman Henke, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sutherland and Dr. and Mrs. William Bond, all of Berea, Ohio.

They will arrive on Friday night and enjoy a buffet supper. Joining them for the dinner will be Mr. and Mrs. Arthur St. Clair of Duranoor road.

Returning from the game Saturday evening, they will be entertained at Mario's for dinner. Sunday, before their departure for Ohio, Mrs. Koehn plans a turkey dinner.

The November meeting of the Wing Lake school PTO was held recently with an open house for the parents. All classrooms were open and students work on display for mothers and fathers to inspect. Room mothers for each grade assisted the respective teacher as hostesses. Room mothers of the two third grades served coffee in the all-purpose room throughout the evening.

Guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Parbury Schmidt and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred LaBelle.

Foxcroft WNFG Club Dedicates Itself To Beautifying Gracey Memorial Park

By Virginia Cole

Gracey Memorial Park, dedicated to the memory of Dr. Clayton Gracey, founder of Foxcroft, is being developed by the Foxcroft Association.

Leading off in this new project is the Foxcroft branch of the WNFG club with the planting of four Russian olive trees and one white pine. The Russian olives are donated by the club and the white pine was the gift, last year, to the club from Michigan State university, commemorating their centennial celebration.

Gracey Memorial park is a large island of ground located at the north end of east and west Surrey.

THIS AREA was formerly planned for the playground and tennis courts but as Foxcroft grew and Dr. Gracey extended it to Telegraph road, the plan was changed and the playground placed in its present location. This plot, chosen for the park has remained through the years as a Commons.

The garden club and the association plan to further develop this beautifully landscaped memorial to Dr. Gracey who died last spring.

MRS. Mark H. Martin, conservation chairman of Foxcroft branch of WNFG and her assistant, Mrs. Fred M. Lawrence were in charge of the planting of the trees and Da. Gracey's brother, Frank Gracey who is overseer of Foxcroft, did the planting Monday.

This was the first soil turned in the development of the park.

The A. P. Hopkins Entertain Guests From Honolulu

High point in the visit of Lucille Morris and Mrs. Virginia Vary of Honolulu, Hawaii, house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred P. Hopkins of Colby Lane, was a Western smorgasbord dinner party which the Hopkins gave in their honor.

Some 50 guests, all dressed in western garb, paid due homage to this rare delicacy by stowing away over 70 pounds of barbecued antelope. The animals were felled by Mr. Hopkins in Wyoming earlier this year and were brought out of deep freeze for the occasion.

Following dinner, guests danced to music provided by an orchestra.

For the past two years the Hopkins have spent several months in Honolulu each winter and have become close friends of Miss Morris and Mrs. Vary. In Honolulu, the Hopkins were entertained by them at several Luaus (Hawaiian dinners of barbecued pig and native foods of the island) and Japanese tea garden parties.

House guests for two weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins entertained Miss Morris and Mrs. Vary at several Detroit supper clubs and Mrs. Hopkins took them to a luncheon and fashion show at Oakland Hills country club where Saks clothes were modelled.

Berkshires Garden Club Holds Meeting in Detroit

In keeping with the International theme, the menu included food typical of Poland when members and guests of the Berkshires branch of the WNFGA met for luncheon last Tuesday at the International Institute of Detroit.

First guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Frank Chapman, state chairman of International Cooperation who twice represented American women at the world conference of Associated Women of the World.

The main speaker aws A. G. Kettunen, a leader of the International Farm Youth Exchange of the 4-H Foundation. His talk, illustrated with slides presented many facets of life in Finland as well as the 4-H program in that country.

This interesting program was arranged by Mrs. J. G. Calhoun. The attractive and artistic flower arrangements gracing the tables were arranged by Mrs. Walter Markin, Mrs. J. F. Hobart, Mrs. H. L. Marten and Mrs. Russell Hughes.

Sewing needles were hummin' Wednesday night in Jane's week when a few members of St. Cabrini Guild got together at the home of Pat Wink on Old Mill road, to finish sewing and trimming felt Christmas stockings and aprons for their fair which is coming up in December.

Busy sewing beads and sequins on the felt stockings were Mrs. Marge Desmond, Mrs. Matthew McDonald, Mrs. Maria Dufrin and a neighbor, Mrs. Robert Reason.

A luncheon for her former neighbors took place at the home of Mrs. Matthew J. McDonald on Parkhurst Lane last Thursday. The former Detroit neighbors surprised Mrs. McDonald by giving her a belated house warming gift —a sterling silver serving spoon to match her Rosepoint sterling.

The luncheon table centerpiece was an attractive arrangement of yellow and rust colored mums overflowing from a wicker woven dish.

Guests included Mrs. Jack Evans, Mrs. Fred Ross, Mrs. William Corey, Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mrs. John Jury, Mrs. Edward Hickey, Mrs. Jack Ambrose, Mrs. Victor Sarin, Mrs. Leo Zamanigan and Mrs. Anthony Danis.

Mrs. Richard Sloan of West 14 Mile road has been busy working on publicity for the Junior League Follies show Nov. 9 and 10. Mrs. Sloan also writes a monthly column for the league publication, the Blackboard.

LATHRUP — Don Wells, Inc., contractor for paving projects in the city, was to be paid $11,503.43 for services rendered to date and the city was to retain $4,000 until certain deficiencies were corrected, according to a council resolution passed Monday night.

Councilman Lantz L. Mackey told Leonard A. Watchowski city administrator that several complaints have been forthcoming on Well's work, and that certain ditching, culverts, and cleanup should be taken care of soon.

No mention was made of private drives, but council was told that in a few days cold weather would end paving this year.

Park lane has been in a whirl working on the Sleigh-bell Fair for the Birmingham Congregational church. The fair which will take place next Wednesday, Nov. 16 will offer loads of attractive Christmas articles for sale. Mrs. Trau is chairman of her circle which will have the Christmas booth.
