Food, Fun and Entertainment To Highlight Children's Fair

This year for the first time, a children's fair will be held in conjunction with Our Lady Queen of Martyrs annual "Holiday for Things", Saturday, Nov. 12.

While some Altar Society members will be busy with bazaar activities in the church social hall, others will be at the school, working with the children's fair. Beginning at one o'clock, the fair will open with a big variety show, starring Pirate Pete of TV fame, acting as master of ceremonies and Milky the Clown who will be doing his magic acts.

Immediately after the show, rooms of the school will be opened each having a different bit of entertainment for the young fry. There will be a make-up booth that will transform the tiniest into a grown-up glamour girl, and the most innocent little boy into a real man.

Other rooms will offer cartoons, fortune telling, a fish pond, rides, a "Hit Beat" and a variety of food. Mrs. Thomas Devine and Mrs. Ray Sifferman are co-chairmen of the children's fair.

Mrs. Harry Schaeffer, West 13 Mile road, president, chairman, reported on activities of her committee at a meeting of the College Women's Volunteer Service on Nov. 3, when the group met at the Vista Marie School for Girls in Detroit.

Most Halloween parties are now forgotten, but neighborhood children are still talking about the big Halloween party given by the Prescott Gorman and children, Greg, Joan and Laura in their home on Auburn drive Sunday afternoon Oct. 30.

More than 20 parents arrived to watch the fun and 61 costumed neighborhood children watched Milky the clown do his magic tricks. Michael Kelly and his buddy Pat, entertained with a ventriloquist act. After refreshments were passed several times, all clowns, witches, bats, and other assorted characters left for home.

Freshmen inducted at Marygrove College at Founder's Day ceremonies included Sheila O'Leary of Hiwood and Margaret Soma of Kirkshire.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY
November is birthday month at the Al Joldersma home on Arlington. Last Saturday, Diane celebrated her tenth birthday at a dinner party. Her guests were Judy Beach, Marjola Schutte, Ronnie Pasuth, Sandra Hall, Margaret McCartney, Robin Adler, Lynda Weston, Barbara Byer, Carol Black and Janet Booley.

This Friday Tommie Joldersma will celebrate his seventh birthday and attending his party will be Rex Beach, Mark Christianson, Eric Coffman, Hugh Danville, Gary Hiesting and sunny Johnson.

Mrs. William Chapman, Lauderdale, who hostesses to a "get acquainted" coffee last week to new and old neighbors. Mrs. Arthur Davis, Mrs. Stuart Kelly, Mrs. Martin Erickson, Mrs. Lee Anderson and Mrs. Ted Koblan became better acquainted with Mrs. Warren Henderson, Mrs. Thomas Martin, Mrs. Ed Be Lestro and Mrs. H. W. Armstrong before the morning was over.

Melinda Ross, and her mother, Mrs. Robert Downing arrived home Sunday from St. Joseph Mercy hospital to the open arms of the family. Melinda arrived Nov. 2 and weighed 8 pounds, 12 ounces. The Downings live at 83275 Arlington.

12 S'fld Residents Take Out Petitions For Nomination

SOUTHFIELD — Twelve more residents have taken out nominating petitions, since last week—and two of these took three each, making 20 petitions now in circulation.

Those who took out three each were Mrs. James Molnar of 2582 Rouge court, and Emanuel Christensen, 17364 Correl.

Others who drew petitions were: Clarence Durbin, 19741 Saxton; Elman C. Jamieson, 22295 Magnolia; Samuel A. Garzia, 30670 Longcrest; Stephen T. Onderko, 31775 Rutland; Theodore J. Sura, 18300 Kirkshire; H. C. McJoulal, 24800 Larges; H. Luther Wagner, 24256 Martha Washington; Hiram A. Dorfman, 21746 Greenview; Don O. Swanson, 8939 Brady Court; and Thomas M. Costello, 27466 Lexington Parkway.

Those seeking office have until Nov. 21 at 4 p.m. to file the petitions. Most petitions are for council, it is believed.

Optimist Club Tours Precincts To Get Registrations

SOUTHFIELD — This Saturday Optimist club sponsored car with loud speakers will roam the Southfield area reminding residents to register for the Southfield charter election at their regular voting precincts.

Southfield Optimists with their trailers and deputized workers visited and deputized workers visited precincts 2, 6, 8 and 11 last Saturday in their registration campaign.

"We got the best response from precinct 11, which is East Southfield and includes Cambridge Village," Charles N. Shering, Southfield Optimist club member said. "We were registering voters there one every four minutes and had people standing around six deep."

"All plantings on the property have been donated to the Southfield Optimist club," said C. H. Starkey, Optimist president explaining, "and there are many varieties of perennial flowers, flowering shrubs and plants, just waiting for customers to dig them out for their own gardens."

"There are flowering almonds, Persian lilacs, Rose of Sharon, a rare Bamboo hedge besides iris, peonies and other plants."

The property of almost an acre has been sold at a site for a gas station and will be cleared off. The four room cottage on the property also donated to the Optimist club will be razed.

ident of the association, Malcolm Ferguson, principal, and Joe Polin of Higens nursery will preside at the planting ceremony at 10 a.m.

At Our Lady Queen of Martyrs school, two pink flowering crab trees, 15 feet high, will be planted. Assisting at the ceremony will be the Rev. Leo E. Totte, Sister Mary Helen, principal of the school, and all students will attend the ceremony.

The Beverly Hills W.N.F.G. association and Higens nursery have shared the cost of the trees.

Camille Tessmar Receives Cap at Nurses' Ceremony

The traditional capping of freshman nursing students was held last Friday at the Mercy School of Nursing. Among those receiving their caps was Camille, daughter of the John Tessmars of Eastlady drive.

The school is a unit of St. Joseph Mercy hospital. Camille spent the weekend at home with her family.

Mrs. Ronald O'Brien of Bellevue trail has just returned from a two-week stay in Milwaukee, Wis. with daughter Marguerite, who has just presented her with a new grandson weighing seven pounds, five ounces.

Mr. O'Brien flew up to join his family and is present at the christening. Marguerite's husband, Dr. Donald Ewald is a resident at Milwaukee County hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Vince Provenzano of Bellevue trail recently entertained the J. LaRossa' from San Diego, Cal. Mr. LaRossa still here afforded him an opportunity of seeing his brother whom he has not seen in the past 30 years.

Cocktails and smorgasbord dinner was the order of the day at the John C. Moons of Bellevue trail last Sunday when they entertained a group of 30 friends. Mr. Moons chose white fugu mussels and fall fruit for her centerpiece.

ITALIAN LUNCHEON

An authentic Italian luncheon was served to members of the Holy Name Guild of Birmingham at the home of Mrs. Louise Loewengard of 1314 Madison.

On the menu was lasagna, Italian salad and a dessert called cannola. Co-hostessing the luncheon were Mrs. Vince Provenzano of Bellevue trail and Mrs. Angela Gerna of Holiday drive.

Among those present were Mrs. Donald J. O'Brien, Mrs. John C. Moons and Mrs. John Buckley, all of Bellevue trail.

The Saigoin' II Junior Riding Club members, with the help of their mothers, held a successful bake sale last Saturday. All the "goodies" were delivered from the Jean Erlandsens home on 114 Midwood. The proceeds of this sale will be used to increase funds set aside to aid needy families this Christmas.

Members of this club have done an outstanding job in sparking charity drives and are to be congratulated on their untiring effort to aid less fortunate children.

Chuck and Adrienne Erlanson attended the club's annual Halloween party held at Hy-Win farms, where they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. H. Dawson.

The John Buckleys of Bellevue trail celebrated the holidays early this year. Their son, Petty Officer Gene Buckley of the Naval Air Force has just returned to Norfolk, Va. after spending a 21 day leave at home, thus setting the calendar up a few weeks.

Gene and the family celebrated Mrs. Buckley's birthday at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Pelagia Menzel of Fair Haven.

New Families Moving to Area Have Many Outside Interests

EAST BEVERLY — Intriguing newcomers to the East Beverly area—Mr. and Mrs. John J. Keenan who are happy that they are settled in their new home on Buckingham because now they hope to have some free time to spend with their hobby, painting in oils and watercolors.

The Keenans met while they were students at a Detroit art school, studying under Carlos Lopez. Mrs. Keenan has a still life of daffodils in the Kirk-of-the-Hills art show and Keenan's art director for the J. Walter Thompson advertising agency. Four little Keenans complete the family picture. Patricia Ann, 8, Timothy, 6, John, 4 and Bridget, 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Minkwie are new neighbors on Pierce street moving from Detroit with their three children.

Mrs. Minkwie enjoys cooking and gardening and finds plenty of time to fill her time. Joe's favorite pastime, photography, has been neglected while he joins Mrs. Minkwie in the yard. He hopes that by spring the grass and landscaping will be under control so he can get back to his hobby. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus and is employed by General Motors, Chevrolet division in the quality control branch.

First recorded births and deaths in Oakland county were made in 1867.

In 1827 Oakland county recorded its first marriage.

First naturalization proceedings were recorded in Oakland county in 1827.

From 1940 to 1950, West Bloomfield township grew in population from 6,579 to 9,416.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coyer and children, Claudia Ann, 9, Stephen, 4 and Michelle, 5 months formerly of Detroit, are almost settled in their new home on Kirkshire. Both the Coyer like to play bridge and golf.

Mrs. Coyer studied art at the New Jersey Art school and expects to find time for painting this winter. Frank, University of Illinois graduate, is a member of the Michigan Certified Public Accountants and is an auditor of Kely Hayes.
