BITS OF BIRMINGHAM

ANYTIME NOW, we'll be getting our new auto license plate applications from the Michigan secretary of state's office. Some of them will go out to persons who have traded in their car to a dealer, who then sold it to someone from another state. So Michigan auto license applications, according to the record, find it still listed to the former owner. If this happens to you, send the application blank back to Lansing with a note that you have sold the car and to whom. Otherwise the application blanks for the old car can follow you around year after year.

IT ISN'T JUST FLATTERY when this Wanderer says that Birmingham Junior Leaguers, who participated in the Junior League Follies last Wednesday and Thursday, had a professional polish that is quite unusual in the world of amateur theatres. It was evident that the theater last a lot of talent when leaguers and their husbands chose homemaking or business fields, as the case may be, over the greasepaint circuit. It was a long show, but it moved so well, and the audience was so awed with the apparent amount of practice it must have taken, and were so well entertained, that they didn't have a chance to notice the time. A "very well done" is in order.

IT IS ENCOURAGING to know that officials at Torry elementary school have their guard up when it comes to allowing a stranger to take a youngster out of class. The other day this Wanderer wanted to talk to one of the youngsters at the younger's home so the mother could be present. Before they released the child (we learned later) Principal Donald Burba's secretary, Shirley Hartkoff checked at the child's home to make sure the mother was aware of my presence at the school, and before leaving with the youngster, the teacher, Mr. Dean Cramer requested identification before she would allow the child to accompany us. To know that such safeguards are being applied is most reassuring.

FOR SEVERAL FALL SEASONS, we've heard about the "cement shortage" which affects many municipal programs, particularly, Birmingham felt it in the Pierces-Merrill parking lot construction. According to contractor Don Wells, finally was able to obtain some cement, but it had to be trucked down from Flint in ready-mix trucks. "Local cement was impossible to buy," he said. "In this parking lot job, we had to use cement that had been made in Germany!"

EXPLAINING THE NEED for unselfish cooperation from members of the southern Oakland County traffic safety group, State Police Capt. Raymond Mohr of Redford illustrated his point effectively to Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley and other Birmingham representatives at their recent meeting. "We're not here to establish 5 m.p.h. speed limits around our own homes, prohibit parking in front of our competitors' stores, and secure a parking lot next to our own businesses," Mohr stated. The point must have hit home. It evoked a good laugh from each of the safety representatives.

MYSTERY SURROUNDED a message received this week by 14-year-old Peter Smith, 1836 Oak, a radio ham. The call was relayed to Peter from an Ohio operator who had picked up the message from Hamburg, Germany, asking aid for a leukemia victim, the three-year-old daughter of a man who identified himself as Bill Times of Hamburg. Why the message was specifically addressed to Peter Smith and wander over a possible lack of drugs in Germany to treat the disease, have caused puzzlement to everyone who has heard of the strange call.

Play Festival Set At Barnum School

Three one-act plays will be presented at the Barnum Auditorium on Friday, Nov. 18, at 8:00 p.m. The plays are: "The Stolen Prince," with an all seventh grade cast; "Be a Little Cuckoo," a comedy deluxe played by the eighth grade girls; and "The Ghost of Lane Cabin," a mystery presented by the eighth grade boys.

The plays are arranged by the Barnum dramatics club, Miss Lyla McCormick, Mrs. Shirley Bigelow, and Miss Verona Smukal are technical directors.

Willits Widening Delayed 2 Weeks; Bates Paving OK'd

What kind of traffic uses Willits street is going to be determined before Birmingham city commissioners approve the special assessments for its widening and paving. Representing the Wakeek and Jacobson's interests which own major footage along Willits between Woodward and Chester, Clarence Blenman said his clients feel the city should bear more widening cost than the proposed 25 per cent.

Police department studies of traffic origination and destination will be made for presentation to the hearing which was continued until Nov. 28. Exact engineering details for widening and paving of the block between Chester and Bates also were ordered.

Suggest New Site For Observer Post

New location for the Birmingham ground observers' post is under consideration, City Manager D. C. Egbert disclosed this week. The site is at the corner of Forest school on the western fringe of the business section, discussions are under way regarding its relocation on city property on E. Maple west of Coolidge, formerly used for dumping rubbish.

Charged With Gross Indecency

A charge of gross indecency was filed against Paul E. Ivan, 27, of 3501 Schofield, Livonia, when he was arraigned before Justice John J. Gaffin in Municipal Court on Nov. 16. Ivan, formerly of Birmingham, demanded an examination, which was scheduled for Dec. 2 at 11 a.m. He was held with bond set at $1,000. Previously arrested Oct. 27, on a similar charge, Ivan was out on bond at the time of his arrest Nov. 14.

Student's 'Ride' Ends in Hazing Ban

MIDLAND—An unplanned trip to him and deposited him in a field to this city by William Berndt, near Midland, Michigan State university student. Berndt contacted Midland police from Birmingham, is the reason and they gave him an assist back to campus. James Poteet, East Lansing, chairman of Phi Mu fraternity, announced the Alpha Fraternity "abducted" ban on hazing after learning of Berndt, a senior, they blindfolded Berndt's experience.

Plagiarism! Lady Hathaway copies his classic Viyella shirt

Only Lady Hathaway has the right to import Viyella for women's shirts. Viyella, of course, is the illustrious British fabric woven of lamb's wool and long-staple Egyptian cotton. Washing can't shrink or fade it, it's warm without being bulky, it packs like a dream, and it won't tear out. We hold this magnificent shirt in a whole range of glowing solid colors at
