

It seems to me that he who laughs or ridicules the plan of attending a church might as well say: "Where's the use of wasting one's effort to breathe... Far, I believe, religion is necessary to the fulfillment of man's destiny."

DANCERS are, left to right, Alison Wardrop, Suzanne Melusky, Marybeth deKubinyi, Barbara Sommer, and Linda Young, who will perform at the Institute of Arts in Detroit on Nov. 26 and 27.

Five Ballet Dancers from Area Join 126 Others in Ballet Given at DIA

Five youthful ballet students will be among dancers when the Cecchetti council of America, a national organization of dance teachers, presents a ballet at Detroit Institute of Arts on Nov. 26 and 27.

Pupils of Irene Mortenson, a member of the general board of directors of the organization of dance teachers who use the graded teaching methods of the Italian Balletmaster, Enrico Cecchetti, will perform in the unusual program.

First half depicts 60 children practicing ballet, while second part is devoted to authentic character dances and classical ballet groups, choreographed and taught by William Hollar of New York City. Hollar is a national figure in the ballet world.

LOCALITIES participating are Alton Wardrop of Beach road, Bloomfield Hills, Linda Young Warwick, Beverly Hills, Marybeth deKubinyi, of Yosemite, Birmingham, and Suzanne Melusky, of Webster.

Linda's mother, Mrs. Henry Young, is chairman of the make-up committee for the cast of 126 dancers, while Marybeth's mother, Mrs. Vicor deKubinyi, is her aide.

Among Birmingham residents planning to attend are the S. D. Ferguson, the William McNary, Mrs. Nancy Sommer. From Bloomfield Hills are Beverly the Walter Bromley, and the Robert Wardrop, and from Beverly Hills, the C. A. Hartners and the Henry Young.

Among localities attending the wedding and the reception which followed at grandeur hall, were the Jortizes, Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Meyer, Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Rachwitz and Mr. and Mrs. William Unsworth.

The newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Canada, after which they will make their home here.

The city's Museum of Science and Industry and Board of Trade.

Art Events Feature Photos, Lecture, Couples' Works

Local art experts and artists are starring in exhibits and programs in current activities.

Aline B. Saarinen, wife of architect Eero Saarinen of Bloomfield Hills, will be telling her conjectures if old masters in painting had had one man contemporary.

"She'll be answering the question of how Rembrandt and other old masters in the art world would have been criticized by their contemporaries."

Brownies Invested With Ceremonies In Three Troops

Brownie Troop 679 of Quarten school had its investiture on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas King, 503 Shirley. Its leaders, Mrs. Thomas King, Mrs. Charles Ervin, and Mrs. Fred Simanek, presented the girls with Brownie pins at a candlelight service.

After investiture, each girl served her own mother coffee and cookies.

Girls receiving their pins were Louise Bailey, Brenda Blaindall, Linda Brooker, Peggy Bychinsky, Wendy Diehl, Harriet Ervin, Susan Evinsler, Susan Henry, Diane King, Christina Kyster, Jillian Morgan, Barbara Mott, Cynthia Radom, Cynthia Murray, Diane Simanek, and Julie Valpey.

B'ham Hi Parents Do Mock Studies

Parents of Birmingham high school students attended school last Tuesday at the PTA open house.

Using schedules of their students, parents passed from class to class in a mock school day with a ten minute period in homeroom followed by seven minute class periods.

Before the mock school day there was a short meeting in the school gym.

Angelo Angelecci, director of the Variety show, previewed the show. Ross A. Wagner, principal, briefed the parents on the procedures of the mock school day.

Mrs. Harry Altie was program chairman of the openhouse.

Four Riders Win Toronto Show Prize

Four young horse-ownership fans who live in this area took awards at the Royal Winter Fair, international horse show at Toronto last weekend.

Skip Doud of Bloomfield Village took second in the novices' dressage test, and in the medium dressage test, he took first place. James Jones, who went up with them, took second and fifth, and Kitter James, of Birmingham, took sixth in the medium dressage class.

Charlotte Nichols, who lives in Bloomfield Hills and Metamora, was among the Metamora riders and took a third on Saturday, on one of the two horses she rode. She won in the amateur Corinthian working hunter class.

Concert Pianist Presents Program

Paul Pankotan, pianist, will present a concert Friday evening, Dec. 10, at the Birmingham Community House.

He is well known as a teacher of piano here and concertized in New York and Boston before establishing his studio here about five years ago.

Mrs. Pankotan is a graduate of the School of Music and later received his master's degree in music from the University of Michigan.

New Finishing School Stresses Close Attention To Poise, Charm

Stressing more individual attention than large modeling and finishing schools, and offering a variety of ways for women and teenage girls to make themselves more attractive, the Renee Finishing school has begun operations in Birmingham.

Revaning the family dwelling at 411 Redpedale road, just two blocks off Hunter boulevard, has according to the business owner, Mrs. Renee Serles, "brought a lot of heartaches and a broken leg."

But though the blonde, young German-born woman isn't getting around so easily, she and her staff head, Dee Stookey, have readied the building since June.

"OUR GOAL," says Mrs. Serles, "is to teach women how to become more attractive. We're including make-up, wardrobe, poise, figure coordination, and social graces in our curriculum."

"We are all professional models," she explains, telling of her work with Lily Dache in New York before she came to the Detroit area recently. She came from Germany about seven years ago and still has a trace of an accent.

Miss Stookey has modeled much in Detroit, having taught, as did Mrs. Serles for some time, at the Patricia Stevens school there. Their school will stress more individual attention and more serious study, Mrs. Serles says.

WITH CLASSES running from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. the school and its staff of six fall of whom happens to be blonde, but Mrs. Serles promises a brunette teacher after January 13 teach to classes limited to about four students. A woman or girl can't enroll for more than two hours in a row at the school.

His thesis is that photography is a true art form of the masses as well as an aesthetic art medium.

TWO LOCAL COUPLES are among five artistic couples in the new exhibit at Detroit Artists' Market that opened yesterday.

Rocco DiMarco and Mrs. DiMarco, who both paint, Veto D. Pasternack, who paints, and Mrs. Pasternack, who does ceramics and weaving, are in the three-week show. The DiMarcos live in Bloomfield Hills, the Pasternacks in Gilbert Lake area.

JL Follies Net $30,000

The Junior League of Birmingham has announced that $30,000 was raised from the League's Follies last week, all of which will be turned over immediately to the Birmingham branch of the Oakland Child Guidance clinic.

The league had had as its goal $18,000.

"We feel that our great financial success was due to the patronesses, advertisers, and the Birmingham merchants who gave us their wonderful support and cooperation," said Mrs. George Squibb, president of the Birmingham Junior League.

The full profits of the Follies, $30,000, will help in establishing and maintaining the clinic, but will not by any means be sufficient funds to maintain the clinic for the three-year period during which the Junior League has planned to maintain it, Mrs. Squibb stressed.

After job started last spring, and her work in organizing the details concerned with the show has been continuous.

Torrey McKenny, who directed and produced this Follies, as well as those of other Junior Leagues across the country, said that he was satisfied in every respect with the Birmingham production and with the cooperation that had been given him.

Among Detroiters coming for the Follies were Mr. and Mrs. Sherrod E. Skinner, center, and Mr. and Mrs. Doran P. Brothier, who chatted a moment in Birmingham Theatre before going in to see the chorus line open the program.

Suburban Scene Unique Programs Entertain Guests At Saturday Ball

Unique programs in the form of summons were issued by the Suburban club for their Saturday night dance at Hillcrest Country club. Bearing a seal, and signed by clerk John Winthrop, the summons read in part: Ye are hereby notified to be present in person to face the music within one hour after service of this writ upon you at "John Alden's Ball."

Charges were made to which various members names were signed. Failure to fulfill the requirements, offenders of the Blue Laws were required to sit with their wives or sit with heels in the stocks, whichever was regarded as the worse penalty.

Decorations consisted of a large display of harvest fruits and flowers on the head table, cornstalks and other tokens of harvest.

New members to the organization are the Victor Williams, and Charles Hennings, the Harry VanDeusens and the James Peabody.

There as guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. James Champlin and Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Little.

On Dec. 10 the group has planned a semi-formal with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bailey as chairmen. Assisting them will be Mr. and Mrs. Ben Harris, the Courtney Parkers and the Theodore Stagers.

Her 16th

Mary Rogers, a junior at Kingswood school, celebrated her 16th birthday anniversary Saturday, at a luncheon party at the Detroit Athletic club, with her Kingswood classmates as guests at the festivity.

Mary's mother, Mrs. Lynn N. Hershey of Franklin Hills, and grandmother, Mrs. Arthur D. Spencer of Parkside avenue, Detroit, gave the party, later taking the group to see "Cinerama Holiday" at Music Hall.

Guests also were the honoree's sister, Gayle Rogers; Kingswood headmistress, Miss Marion Goodale, and assistant headmistress, Miss Grace Fry, and two other friends, Sally Sanford and Sue Voorhees.

The classmates included Jane Wert, Judy Knudsen, Norma Petix, Ann Graf, Del Lamberson, Ann Coughlin, Gail Armstrong, Susie Simons, Janice Wainger, Sally Austerberry, Jocelyn Scofield, Connie Kellogg, Becky Irwin, Jeanne Hargreaves, Rubyjean Landman, Sean Beveridge, Ann Wilson, Barbara Coosey, Linda Rakas and Sally Young.

Wind-up of the festive day for most of the group was attending the annual Father-Daughter banquet at Kingswood.

A Day for Fathers

A new Gamma Phi Beta pledge kept her father busy with college activities during fathers' day weekend at the University of Michigan.

Carole Goodhue, a freshman, is the daughter of the Harrison M. Goodhues of Dunblaine.

After seeing the game Saturday, students and their fathers heard dinner, attended the glee club concert and program put on by the girls of the House.

Australian Talk Heard by DARS

Telling of Australia when they lived there, and showing colored slides were Mrs. and Mrs. Kai Han, San Diego in Lathrup, lived several years in Australia. Mrs. Han is a member of Three Flags, the Three Flages chapter of DAR. Members had their husbands as guests and women who were interested in becoming Daughters of the American Revolution.

Newlyweds to Live In Walnut Lake

Wedding bells rang last Saturday for Walnut Laker James Sivik, of Lawndale road, who was joined in marriage with Paula H. Serzugin at the St. Andrew's Methodist church in Dearborn.

Best man was Mel Jortiz, of Wycliffe road.

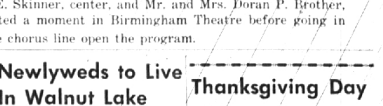

Among localities attending the wedding and the reception which followed at grandeur hall, were the Jortizes, Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Meyer, Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Rachwitz and Mr. and Mrs. William Unsworth.

The newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Canada, after which they will make their home here.

Thanksgiving Day

Will be celebrated next week—So The Eccentric will publish next week's edition on Wednesday, Nov. 23. This requires moving up one full day all deadlines on news, advertising and want ads. Final deadline will be 5 p.m., Monday, Nov. 21.

You can help us considerably by getting your copy in just as soon as possible.

Dimas fur Special

Dyed-Brown Matará ALASKAN SEAL COAT

Forty-seven inches long... Four-flare with turn-back cuffs. Size 16-18

Special at $114.00 plus Fed. tax

Use Dimas Furs' Convenient Payment Plan Lay-A Way No-Carrying Charges

Fur Products Labeled to Show Country of Origin of Imported Furs

MI 4-3930

227 S. WOODWARD AVE. BIRMINGHAM, MICH.

Birmingham Theatre Building

32 Years on Woodward Ave. 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.