College Activities Busy Local Students

College activities keeps students busy as new pledges are accepted, meetings planned and college programs set up.

Marcia Cline, managing editor of Stephens Life attended the Associated Collegiate Press annual meeting in Detroit the past weekend. Flown to Detroit in a Stephens Cessna 140, she was headquartered at the Statler.

Marcia is a member of Beta Phi Gamma social sorority, a member of Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college honorary scholastic fraternity and a member of the Bursall Symphony orchestra.

A cousin at Stephens, Miss. (she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cline of Kenosha.

ROBERT J. Whitlatch, junior at Denison university, Granville, Ohio, has recently attended the Central Ohio Regional conference on college and university teaching at Ohio State university. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Whitlatch of Lakeview.

Accepted for membership in the newly formed Lawrence Tech student chapter of the American Society of Tool Engineers at the Lawrence Institute of Technology is Kenneth M. Julian, 1928 Penrose. He has been named secretary of the new chapter.

AFTER a week-long rushing period at Dartmouth college, Hanover, N. H., two local students have pledged fraternities: Donald E. Borough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jere T. Borough at Beauvoisfield is a Psi Upsilon and J. Bradford Hubert, son of the Forrest Huberts of Tibury road, has pledged Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Richard T. Booth of Parkland court will have a leading part in

A 'Crittter Hunt' Takes Girl Scouts Out Into Snow

A "critter hunt" in the snow was highlight of the camping weekend recently for Girl Scouts of Troop No. 76, Quanton School.

The girls awoke after their first night at Camp Narrin to find the camp deep in snow for their "hunt." Comparing notes, later they found they had more snow than Narrin than here in Birmingham that day.

The girls gathered any interesting natural materials, found on their morning hiking through the woods, which could be used to design any real or imaginary creature. The completed creations were displayed for judging at the end of the day.

Prizes for their entries were won by Patricia Quinn, Carol Wiggins, Martha Wild and Susan Canfield, Betty Anne Plant, Marilyn Meker and Margaret Kemp took honorable mentions.

THE GIRLS arrived at the camp after school Friday, in time for exploring the area and water hauling and wood gathering. After a hearty chili supper, there were games and much singing around the fireplace. Cider and doughnuts Kenneth Bantliff, as licensed campfire ceremony closed the evening.

Beside the troop leader, Mrs. Howard L. Canfield, the girls were accompanied by Mrs. Edward Quinn, as camp nurse, and Mrs. P. Kenneth Bantliff, as licensed campfire.

Home for Holiday

Four daughters and a son will be part of the reunion at the F. J. McGinnis home on Shirley tomorrow. Joining the McGinnis family for dinner will be Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hayes of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Eckhout, of Detroit.

Home for weekend from Marymount Junior college, Arlington, Va., is daughter Maureen.

At home are Sheila, who teaches school, and Frank, Jr., at Birmingham high school.
