Lathrup Girl Scouts to Hold Court of Awards on Monday

Lathrup Neighborhood Girl Scout troops will hold their first Court of Awards of the year next Monday afternoon in Lathrup school auditorium. The program will feature a group of flags, singing, and presentation of advancements and awards.

At the November neighborhood meeting it was announced that three new Brownie troops had been formed. These troops will be led by Mrs. E. F. Mehal, Mrs. William Fuller, Mrs. B. H. Ackles, Jr., Mrs. R. W. Deland, and Mrs. J. C. Stewart.

Lathrup Woman's Club, the sponsoring organization, has contributed $15.00 to start off these troops with a treasury of $15.00 each.

The Neighborhood meeting voted to make troop insurance compulsory to assure protection in traveling. Leaders were asked by Mrs. W. J. Owen, neighborhood chairman, to obtain permission slips from her for all troop money making projects.

Four members of the neighborhood staff are now studying First Aid, and another course has been promised for the first of the year.

TROOP ACTIVITIES
Scout Troop 469, working on their sewing badges are making Christmas aprons for their mothers. Troop 194 made 14 bean bags for the 1st and 2nd graders of Lathrup school at the request of Miss Katherine McLean, principal.
Brookline Troop 487 held a tea for their mothers on Nov. 21 and celebrated the investiture of Candice Boon, Janet Hart, Gloria Monroe, and Janet Shumway. Their leaders are Mrs. Woodrow Nelson and Mrs. E. J. Gardulski.
Troops 690, 691 and 487 combined recently for a trip to the Franklin Cider Mill, where they enjoyed cider, donuts and games. They were accompanied by leaders Mrs. Richard N. Nephew, Mrs. T. J. Jenkinson, Mrs. Edwin McShaffrey, Mrs. John Kraw, Mrs. W. Woodrow Nelson and Mrs. E. J. Gardulski.

Troop 199 held its third birthday party Nov. 21. The girls planned a tea for their mothers, held flag ceremonies, put on a play with all troop members participating and served a big birthday cake.

There will be a Blood Bank at the Community church on Tuesday, Dec. 6, sponsored by the Women's Club. Mrs. Robert E. Ishell, Saratoga Blvd., is co-ordinator.

PTA room mothers will entertain teachers of Lathrup school at their annual dinner at Sea Food Grille, Tuesday, Nov. 29. Mrs. David P. Anderson, Hungalow drive, is room mother chairman.

Carolyn Mae Garger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard N. Conger, 28409 Sunset, was among the 27 students from Albion College, traveling to New York City Sunday, Nov. 20, to observe the United Nations in action. She is a junior, majoring in elementary education.

Sally Cannon, daughter of the Charles J. Cannon, Sunset drive, whose ninth birthday was Nov. 19, entertained with an "Alice in Wonderland" party on Friday evening. Guests wore masks in character and the table decorations carried out the "Alice" theme. Invited were Madeline Girvin, Pamela Ruppel, Barbara Eckman, Pamela Reek, Martha Joesman, Ann Goffari, Mary Mallon and Sallie's sisters, Kate, 6 and Sue, 1.

Club Scout Pack B-35 of Lathrup Village, at its first pack meeting in Lathrup school Nov. 16, awarded Robert Pins to the following new cubs: Chuck Orth, Harry English, Jeff Keith, John Berner, Allan Dunn, Douglas Tesner, David Aiken, Michael McShaffrey, Bruce Rankin, Donald Miller, Ricky Strahm, Larry Bensch, Craig Ferguson, Michael Hart, Dana Kronzinger, William M. Cracken, Ronald Thielman, and Lee Boes.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. McLaughlin, Fort Wayne, Indiana, will spend the Thanksgiving holiday with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. English, Lathrup Blvd.

Bow and Arrow Enthusiasts Hunt Deer Unsuccessfully

Mr. and Mrs. James Pfalzer, Thurber road, put their hobby into action during the month of October when they took their two children, Karen and Don and spent two weeks at Nettie lake near Rogers City in the lower peninsula.

Archery is their interest and they traded their bow and arrow but were unsuccessful. However, they saw several and got several good shots. Mrs. Pfalzer explains that the deer were "just smarter than we were."

Little Don is just five but he took his junior bow and arrow and went out with his daddy to hunt. This young Davey Crockett was not too disappointed at not getting a deer as his thrill at finding a raccoon right in the yard of the cabin made him forget all about deer.

For Thanksgiving dinner, the Pfalzers will entertain both his parents and hers. They are, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Maxwell and Mr. and Mrs. George Hayward, both of Detroit.

For the occasion of their father's funeral last week, Mrs. F. W. Robinson of Madison, N. J., spent a week with her sister, Mrs. C. H. Robinson, Sunningdale. Her son, Gerald, 14, accompanied her.

Their mother, Mrs. W. H. Hutten is making her home with them alternately, spending the winters here and the summers in New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McIntyre and sons, Freddie and Richard, Thurber road, will have Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. McIntyre's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McIntyre Sr. on Pargan.

Other guests will be their daughter Millicent from Syracuse, N. Y., where she is attending school and teaching and Mrs. McIntyre Sr.'s mother, Mrs. Grant Holden of Yale, Mich.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunham, Thurber road, were Mr. and Mrs. William James Pittman from Pittsburgh.

Saturday they attended the Michigan-Ohio football game at Ann Arbor and then returned to the Dunhams where they enjoyed an Italian dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pittman who formerly lived on Sunningdale have moved to 6241 Carey lane. They are in the midst of some remodeling and decorating but hope to be fully settled within the next few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Goding, Indianwood trail will spend Thanksgiving at the home of their son who lives in the Finchell subdivision, east of Birmingham. They are looking forward to seeing their three little granddaughters, Julianne, Judy and Jill. With them will be their nine-year-old son, Joey.

Saturday evening the Godings will attend the Engineering Society dinner dance at Oakland Hills country club.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gadd, Meadow way, are happy to announce the birth of their baby girl, Katherine Ann, Nov. 9. Their other two children are skipper, seven and Susan, five.

Recently, Mrs. Lina L. Cameron of Virginia Beach, Va., spent two weeks visiting her daughter and family, the James Wrights, Wing Lake road.

Among those entertaining Mrs. Cameron during her stay were Mrs. Luther Lawrence, Wing Lake road who fed her with a tea and Mrs. Richard Gaultick, Wing Lake road who honored her at a luncheon.

LOOK TO THE FUTURE
OWNERS SHOULD ASK
How long has your real estate salesman or broker been in business? How long has he operated in this community? What owners need most is an accurate market figure on their house when they wish to sell. It takes years and years of experience and competency to make correct market sale appraisals.
Newcomers and novices simply are not well enough equipped to deal with such vital matters as value. The cumulative experience of this office which has operated continuously in the territory and in the same location for nearly 25 years is something you can afford to rely on and trust.
