Extra 'Holiday' for Birmingham

A special "holiday" in Birmingham is the "Holiday for Things" staged each year by women of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs church as their pre-Christmas bazaar. This year's event will be held Nov. 12 from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. in the church hall, with special emphasis on ceramics. Mrs. John Langley buys the pieces which she

New Youth Director At Franklin Church

Another step in the youth program expansion has been taken by Franklin Community church, with the addition of a part-time worker with junior high youth. The new worker, selected by a special committee of parents and the education commission, is Lester Johnson of Royal Oak. The new group will meet each Sunday, 5 to 6:30 p. m., for a pro-

A country store, baked goods, white elephant, afternoon tea and a snack bar will complete the display. Working on the committee have been Mrs. James O'Rourke, chairman, Mrs. Donald Custrice, Mrs. James Slayden, Mrs. Francis Feats and Mrs. Thomas Raleigh.

Southfield Society Plans Church Bazaar

The Women's society, Southfield Methodist church, will sponsor an autumn bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 5, 11 a. m. to 7 p. m., in the church building on 10 1/2 Mile road, east of Telegraph. There will be the usual assortment of merchandise featured at church bazaars. The ladies still maintain that "things are always cheaper in the country." The snack bar promises an excellent luncheon menu—a sandwich or a meat.

New Lutheran Unit Nearing Dedication

The Rev. Paul Wietzke, pastor of Peace American Lutheran church said this week preliminary plans for the dedication were being made. The building is nearing completion with only the floor tiling and painting yet to be done. Men of the church are making the altar and chancel furnishings, while the women are sewing drapes and Sunday school room dividers.

New Choir Formed At Franklin Church

The creation of an additional choir as part of the musical advancement of Franklin Community church was revealed by Mrs. H. E. Barr, music chairman, when she announced that Mrs. L. F. Balch has joined the volunteer music staff.
 Mrs. Balch, an experienced organist and choir director, will lead the Junior choir of fourth through sixth grade pupils. They rehearse on Friday afternoons after school and will sing in services of the church and church school.
 The choir is being formed by dividing the present choired choir into a youth and adult choir. This fall advent season.

Map Parish Canvass

Men of Community Church-Congregational, under the leadership of E. Lee Parker, will call on new people of the area Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Thomas H. Myers will be in charge of a luncheon for the program of the board of deacons and deaconesses, Lawrence E. Smith, general chairman.
 change, Mrs. Barr said, will give a full choir at both the 9:30 and 11 a. m. services.
 Youth members rehearse at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday preparing for their first separate appearance on Nov. 27.
 Adults join them at 8 p. m. with a joint practice for current services, and later prepare its music into a youth and adult choir. This fall advent season.
