

AClass Project at Pembroke school cradled this typical village as the youngsters studied Indians. Margaret Wilson, John VanderRoost and Susan Irish, who helped on the project, stop by to study the completed display. Other Indian studies have been made, including other tribes and other ways of living and hunting. "It's so much fun to study this way," the youngsters comment.

Intangibles Take On Value in BHS Torch Drive Plan

By MARGIE OBERSON

To raise money for the Torch Drive Birmingham high school planned an auction assembly with certain privileges and objects to be sold.

It will be sponsored by the Assembly club with a planning committee of John Bonds, chairman, Dave Dixon, Carol Orr, Mary Burkan, Fred Finkenauer, Bob Benson, Carol Green, Julie Hoover, Bob Parker and Linda Burkan. Prices on everything to be auctioned will start at $1, and must be raised 25 cents at each bid. Student auctioneers will be chosen by the club.

AMONG ITEMS to be auctioned are reserve seat tickets to football and basketball games, reserve space in the high school parking lot, favored seat in any class, first in lunch line for a semester and a pass for a boy to sit in Pep club sessions.

Others are the privilege of sitting next to John Petrakis, basketball coach, at a game, a pass to leave Pep club during the half at a football game, a reserved table in the cafeteria, and two seats on the bench at the annual Thanksgiving Day game at Royal Oak.

SOME OF the teachers offering services or privileges are Miss Joyce Diaz, who will give exemption from written work for a week; Miss Charlotte Will, exemption from the dissection of a frog or crayfish; Maynard Mott offers a grouse job on a car.

Ross Springour will exempt someone from doing a library report; Joseph Duria will print 30 sheets of personalized stationery and Miss Alice Price will up a grade one mark higher than student enters in six weeks.

High School Teacher On Naval Cruise

Beginning a two-week Navy cruise to Alameda, Cal., last Saturday was Gordon Trayer, Birmingham high school social studies teacher.

An annual activity, the cruise is designed to prepare veteran reserve members for emergencies and instruct them in new operations so that their training is comparable to that of those in active duty.

Working with a patrol bombing squadron, Trayer will practice coordination on mock enemy attacks, gunnery positions, and launching torpedoes.

A member of the ready reserves, Trayer has been with the Navy since 1948, and saw active duty during World War II.

During the summer Trayer has a permanent instruction job at Gosport Naval Air Base, teaching aerodynamics to new enlistees.

Students Volunteer Librarians at BJH

Jane Ward, Barnum school librarian, has volunteer pupils helping regularly in the library. Students work during their study hall periods to file cards, check out books, sort books, etc.

Reserving Dates At Planetarium

CRANBROOK — Although the new planetarium at Cranbrook Institute of Science is not yet officially open to the public, reservations are being taken for five demonstration each weekend, Saturdays at 2:30 and 3:30; Sundays at 2:15, 3:15 and 4:15.

It is the hope of Director Robert T. Hatt that the landscape encircling the perimeter of the inside dome will be completed soon, and that chairs will be installed before December so public demonstrations can be increased through the week.

Puzzling Project

Shirley Richards, Arithmetic Teacher, is trying something new in her classes. The students do crossword puzzles, going across to do the problem and down to check their answers.
