

MRS. CHARLES J. FELTZ

Chapel Train Accents Gown of Antique Satin

A pearl and applied lace cap held in place Mary Margaret Wiesler's fingertip veil for her marriage to Charles Joseph Feltz Saturday. The Rev. Francis Stack read the noon rites at St. Hugo of the Hills. A reception followed at Bloomfield Hills Country club.

Lace and seed pearls outlined the portrait neckline of the antique ivory satin gown with a fitted bodice. Graceful folds of the full skirt fell into a sweeping chapel train of matching lace. She carried white orchids with fleur-de-mauve and Iceland sachet vases.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Norbert H. Wiesler of North Glenhurst. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Feltz of Rochester, N. Y.

MARY Josephine Wiesler and Mrs. Richard Halpin, sisters of the bride, were maid and matron of honor, respectively. They wore identical antique satin frocks of wood violet with marquet necklines and matching corset hats. They carried nosegays of orchid pom-poms.

Bruce Daveys of East Rochester, N. Y., was best man. Guests were seated by David W. Gilchrist, Kenneth Fuchs, Richard D. Halpin, John Lazer, Kenneth Smythe and Louis Alexander.

MRS Wiesler had cymbidium orchids pinned to her dress of barathana. Charles' mother chose a light blue dress with natty accessories and a white orchid.

To start her wedding trip to Bermuda, the new Mrs. Feltz wore a brown tailored suit with matching accessories. When they return they will make their home at the Graefeld Terraces.

Jr. Leaguers Aid Concerts

Among sponsors of the Detroit Symphony orchestra's first Young People's concert of the season is the Junior League of Birmingham. The concert is set for Oct. 29 in Masonic auditorium, with Walter Poole conducting and commenting on works performed.

A feature will be sketching by a cartoonist as "Sorcerer's Apprentice" is played. The symphony's first regular program is tonight, with Margaret Harshaw, Metropolitan Opera soprano, singing with the orchestra, conducted by Paul Paray, in Masonic auditorium.

She will sing the Liebestod from Tristan and Isolde, by Wagner, and part of Strauss' "Salome." WITH JUNIOR LEAGUE, the Women's Association and the Junior Women's Association for the Symphony, aiding with junior program, committees from each group have been selling tickets under the direction of Mrs. Robert Wardrop, 400 Beach, Birmingham. The four one-hour programs are scheduled the Saturday mornings of Oct. 29, Dec. 17, Jan. 21 and Feb. 11. Among those working with Mrs. Wardrop in the Birmingham-

Share Luncheon With Miss America

Alice Holmes and Mary Mitchell were guests last week for luncheon honoring Sharon Kay Ritchie, Miss America of 1956. All three are students at Colorado Women's college in Denver, where the state's governor and other dignitaries gathered to honor Miss Ritchie on her return from Atlantic City and following activities.

Weekend Includes Hop, Meeting Stars

Loretta Zaino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Zaino, of Lucerne, Franklin, and Carole Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Harris, of Birwood, Beverly Hills, returned last week from a ten-day vacation in New York where they met musical stars from Guys and Dolls and at West Point, where they attended a formal "hop".

IN NEW YORK you met Ray Shores who sang in "Guys and Dolls" at La Comedia, a nightclub, introduced by the owner, an acquaintance of their relatives. They also met Bennie Martin, who wrote "Don't Cry, Crybaby". The two young women stayed at the Peabody hotel, where the Dorsey brothers were playing, and attended a premier of Humphrey Bogart's latest movie, and got Bogart's autograph.
